DEDICATION

"After 34 years in Rochester public schools, I'm going to graduate . . . I finally got through high school after all my years of working!"

These are the words of a person dedicated to the education of America's youth. A member of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary teacher's society, a lover of travel, and a cooking enthusiast, this lady finds her greatest happiness in English.

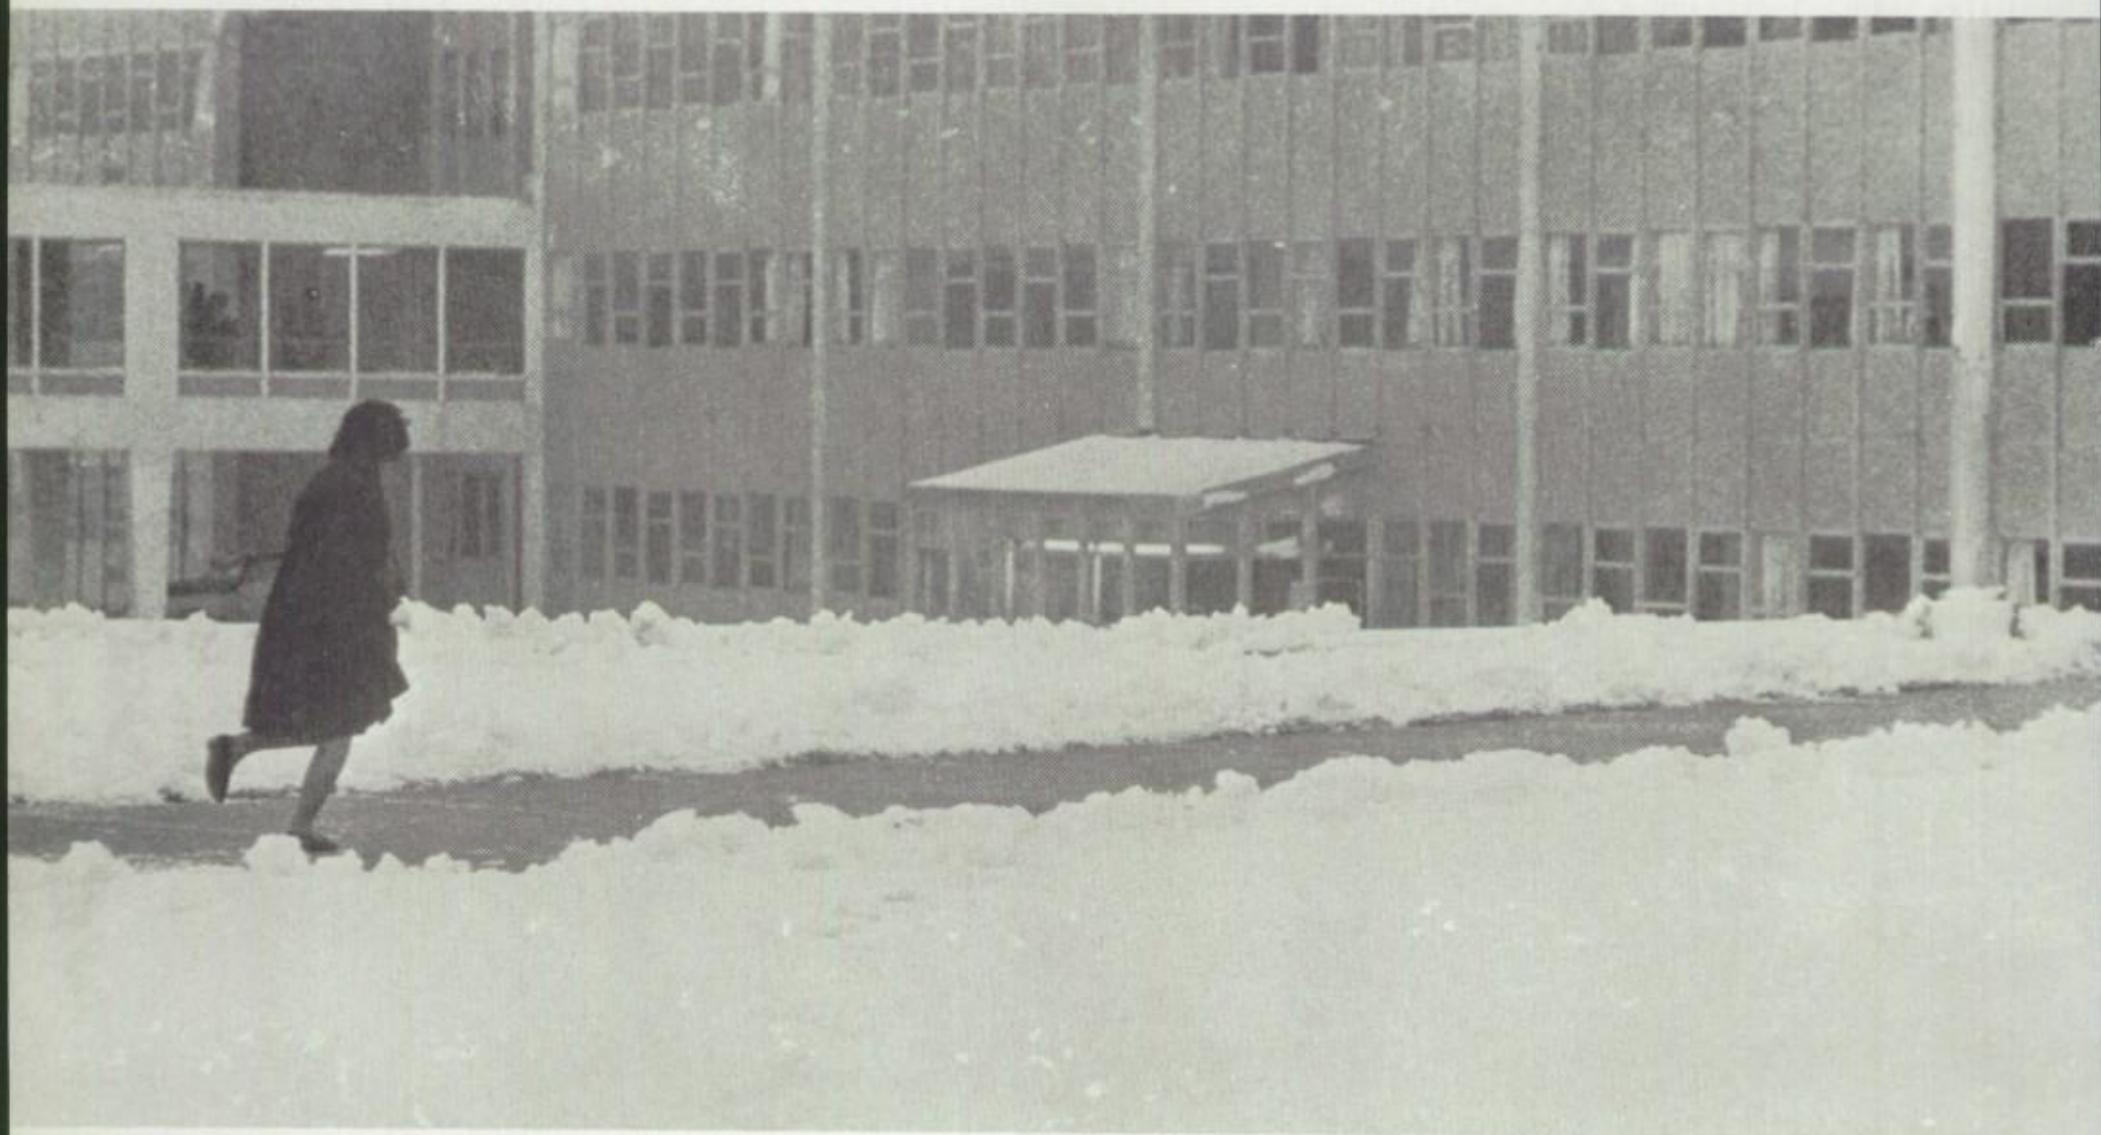

May we dedicate the 1962 Rochord to the sparkling eyes, the animated face, and the amiable disposition of Miss Knight.

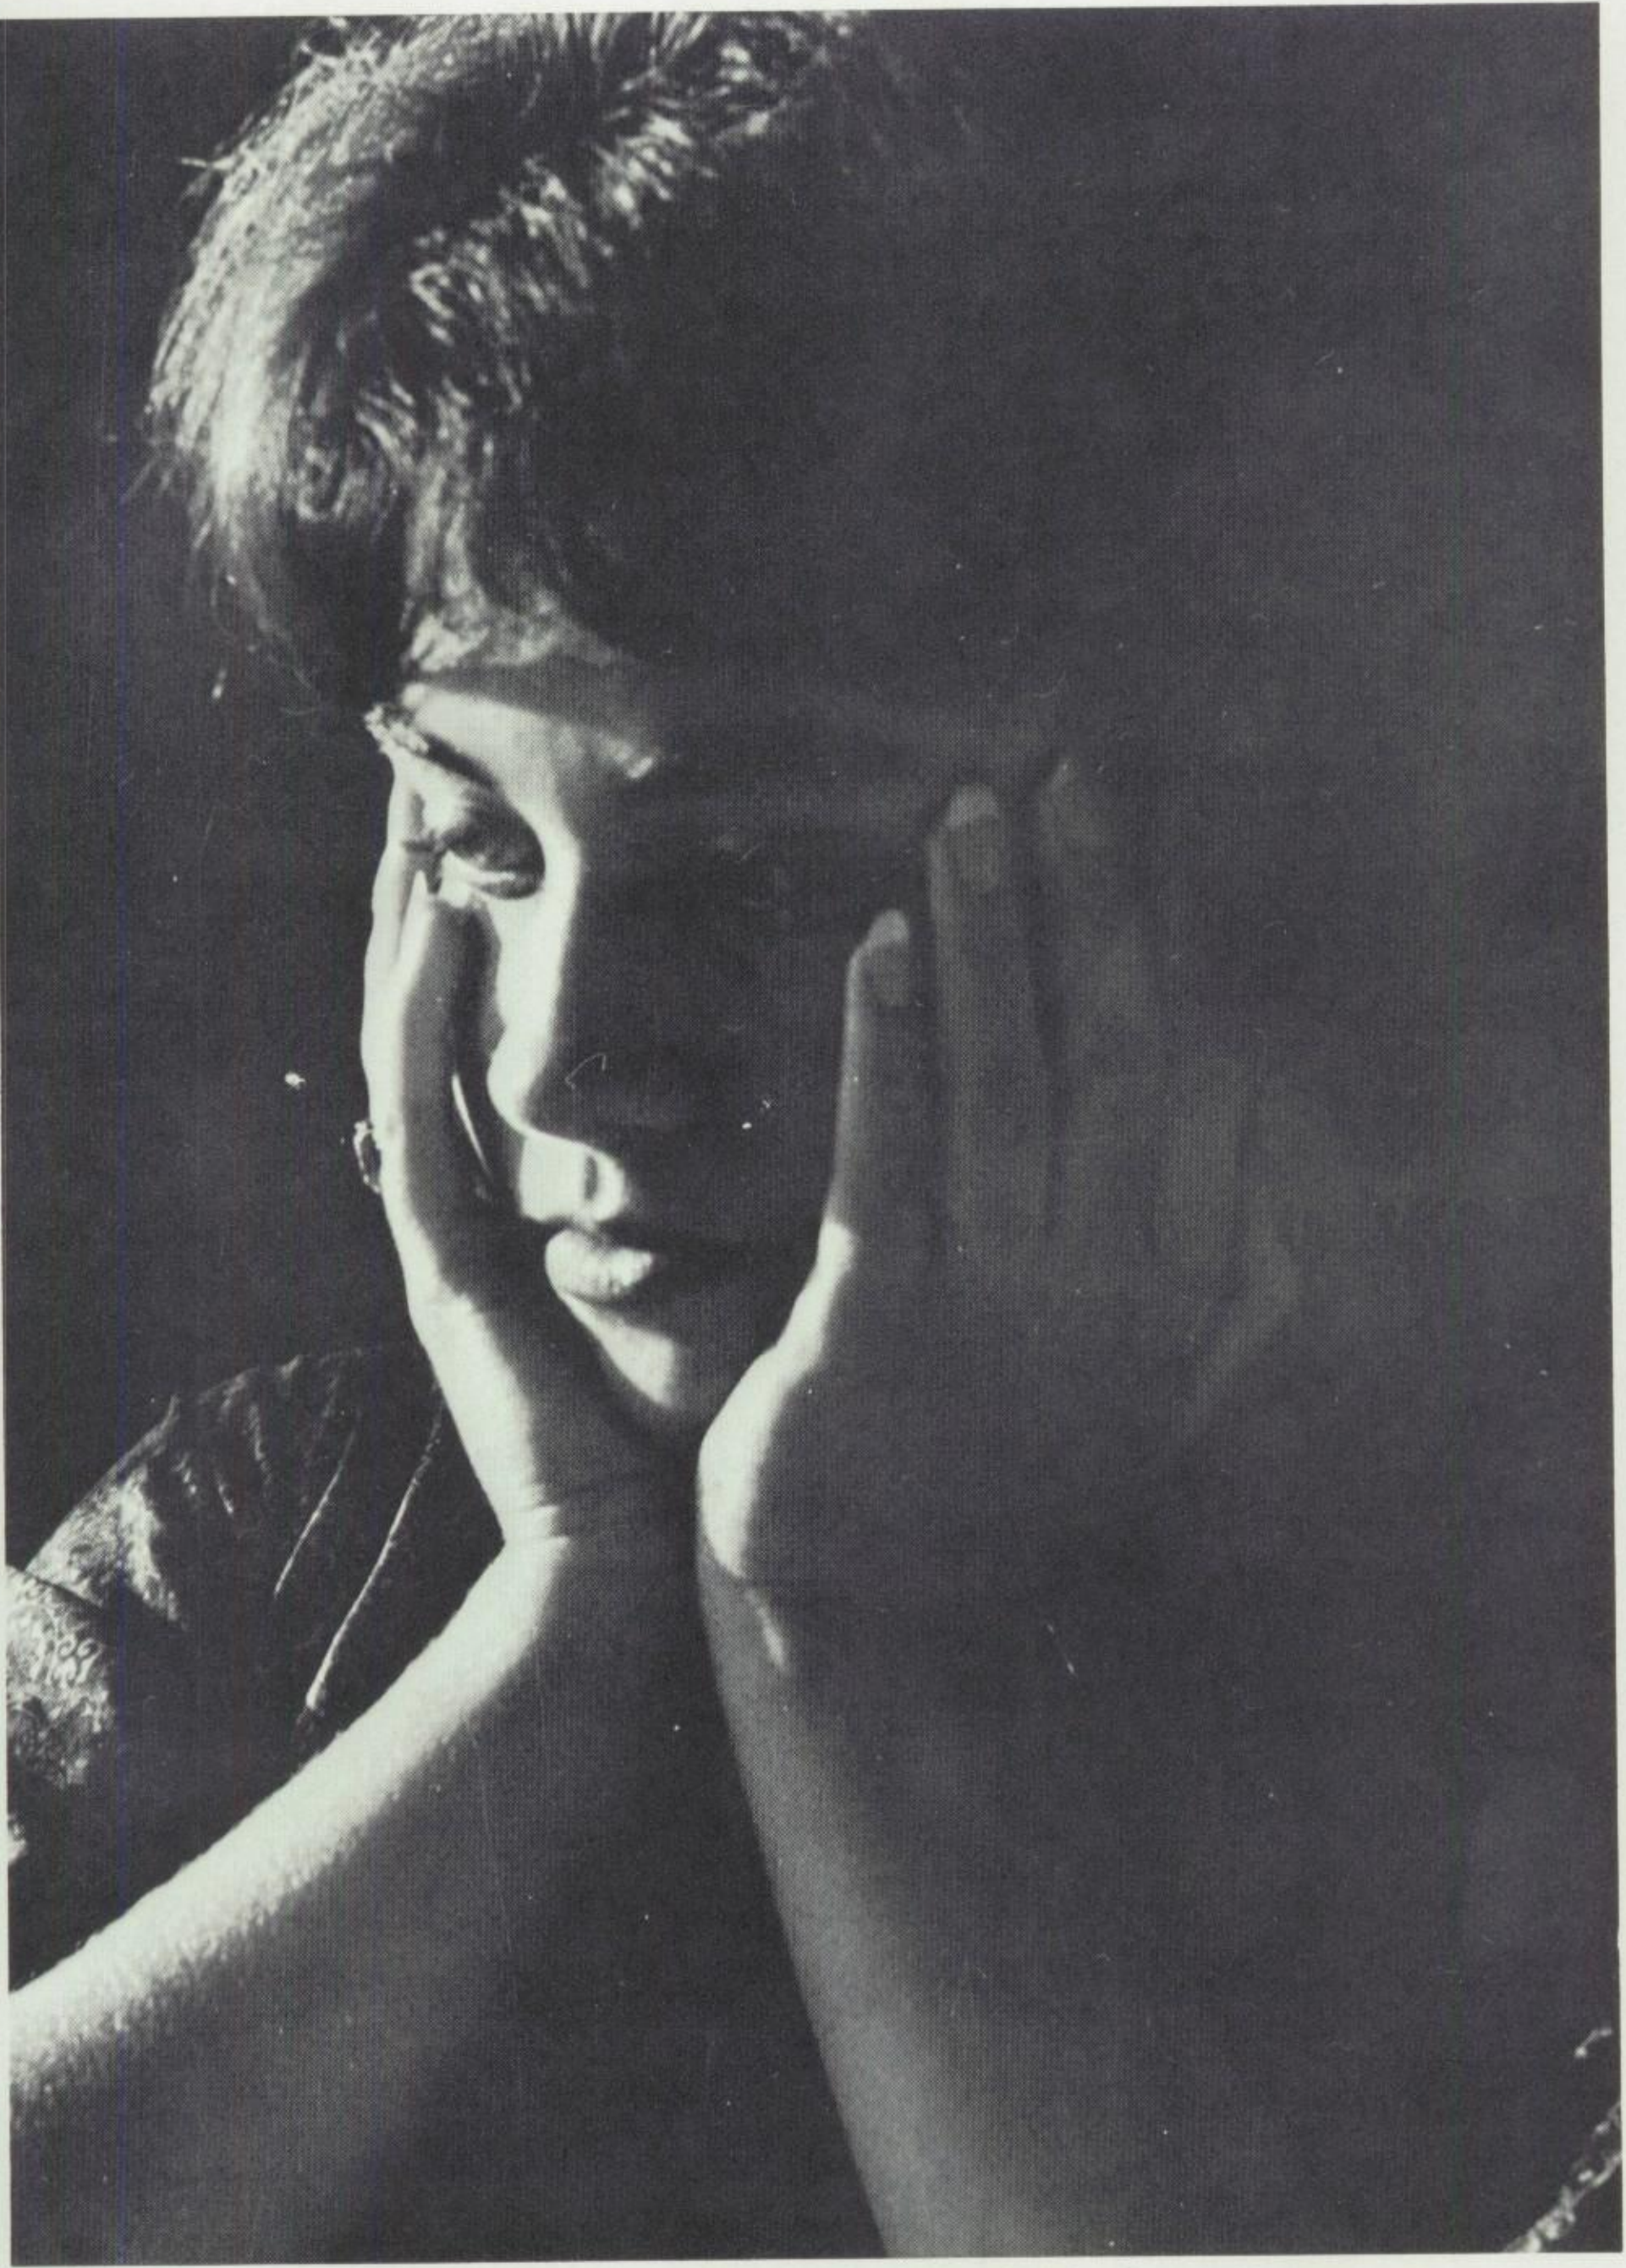

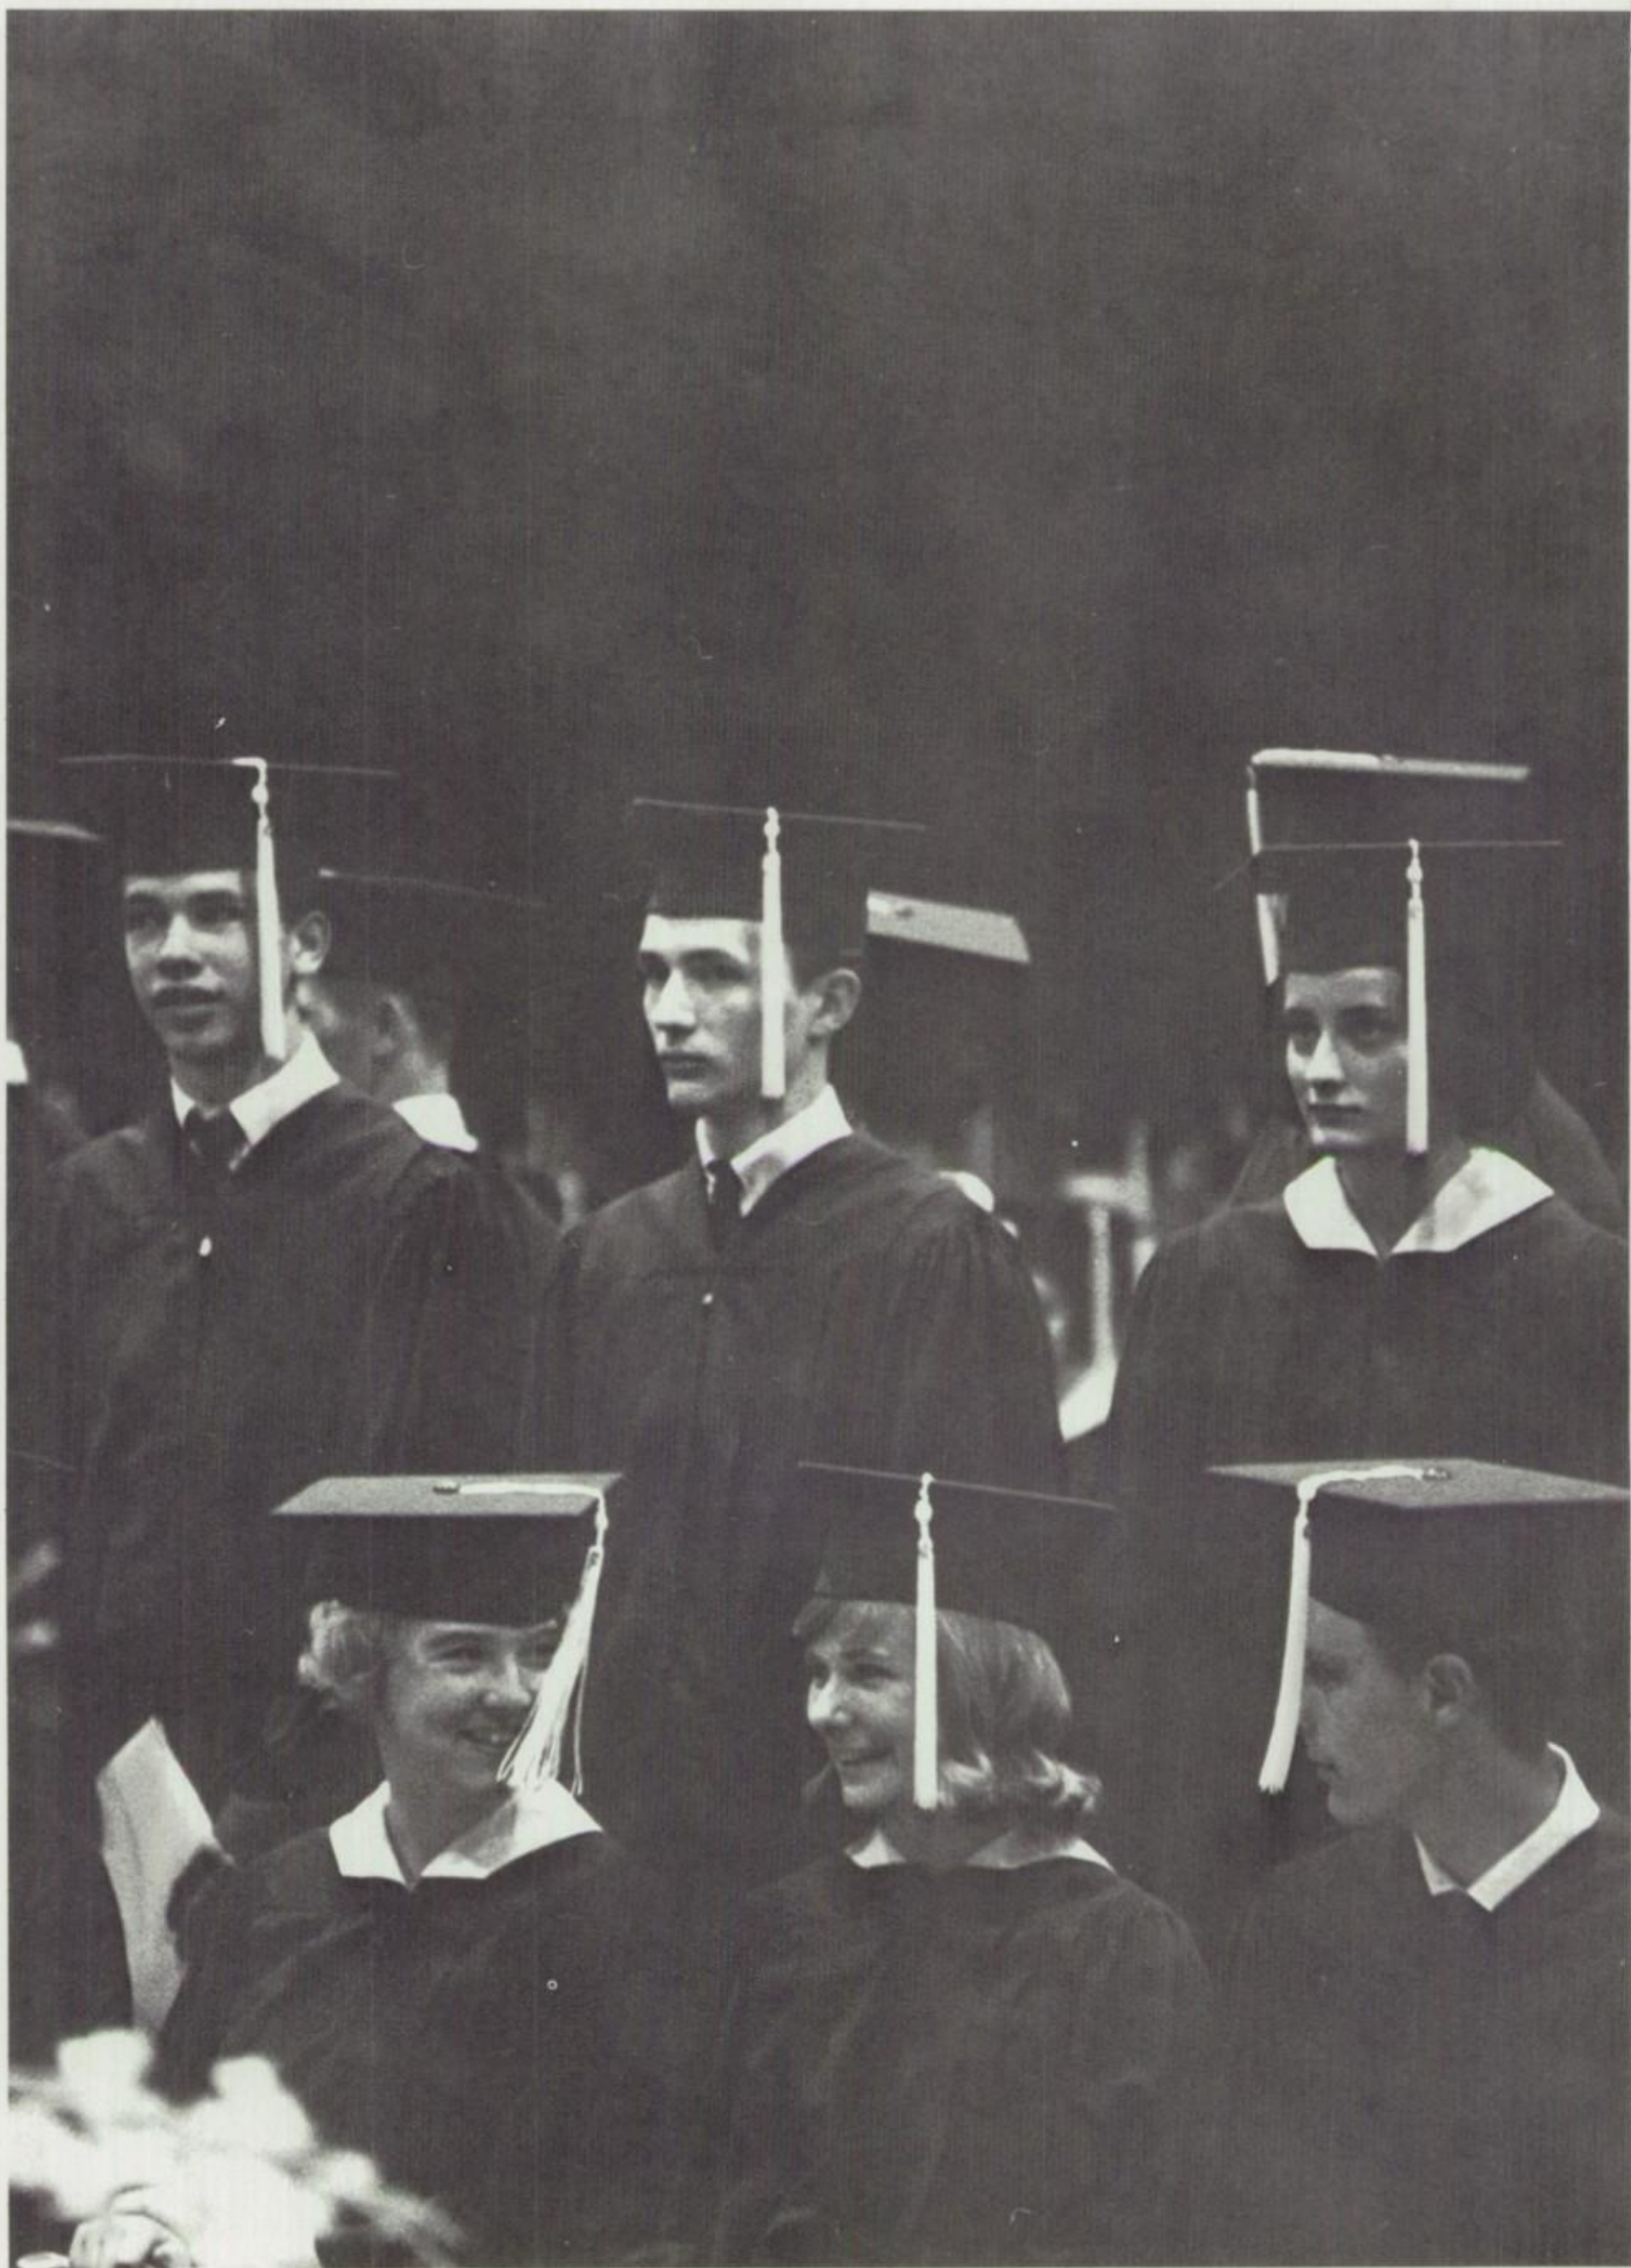

During the past year, many memorable events have taken place. These events have been captured in pictures and words to preserve the memories of each person who has trod the halls of John Marshall.

As you read the 1962 Rochord, may you relive the year through its reflections.

SCHOOL DAY

The customary Homecoming parade had a few obvious handicaps.

The year the identity of the Homecoming queen was kept secret until the hour of the assembly. Joan Hutchings received the honor; after which our guest speaker, Dr. MacCarty was introduced.

The weather dampened everything, including floats and spectators, but there was a fine show of spirit in the turnout of the parade and game.

We won our Homecoming game with Faribault, which made the event a happy and successful one.

Loyal fans display their enthusiasm despite the weather.

WINTER DANCE

The annual Christmas Dance is always a memorable occasion, what with its festive spirit and beautiful decorations. This year's theme was "A Midwinter Night's Dream." The dance was held in the cafeteria from 9:00 to 12:00. The beautiful decorations enhanced the gay holiday mood and happy feeling. A large shining Christmas tree presided over the dance, with sparkling snowflakes dangling from above. On the wall was a large colorful mural. The couples danced to the music of the Esquires and refreshed themselves with punch and cookies.

Judging from the happy expression this couple has, the dance is a success. The two are Janice Knowlton and Mark Pederson.

The traditional punch is served at almost every dance. Barb Else appears thoughtful as she does her part.

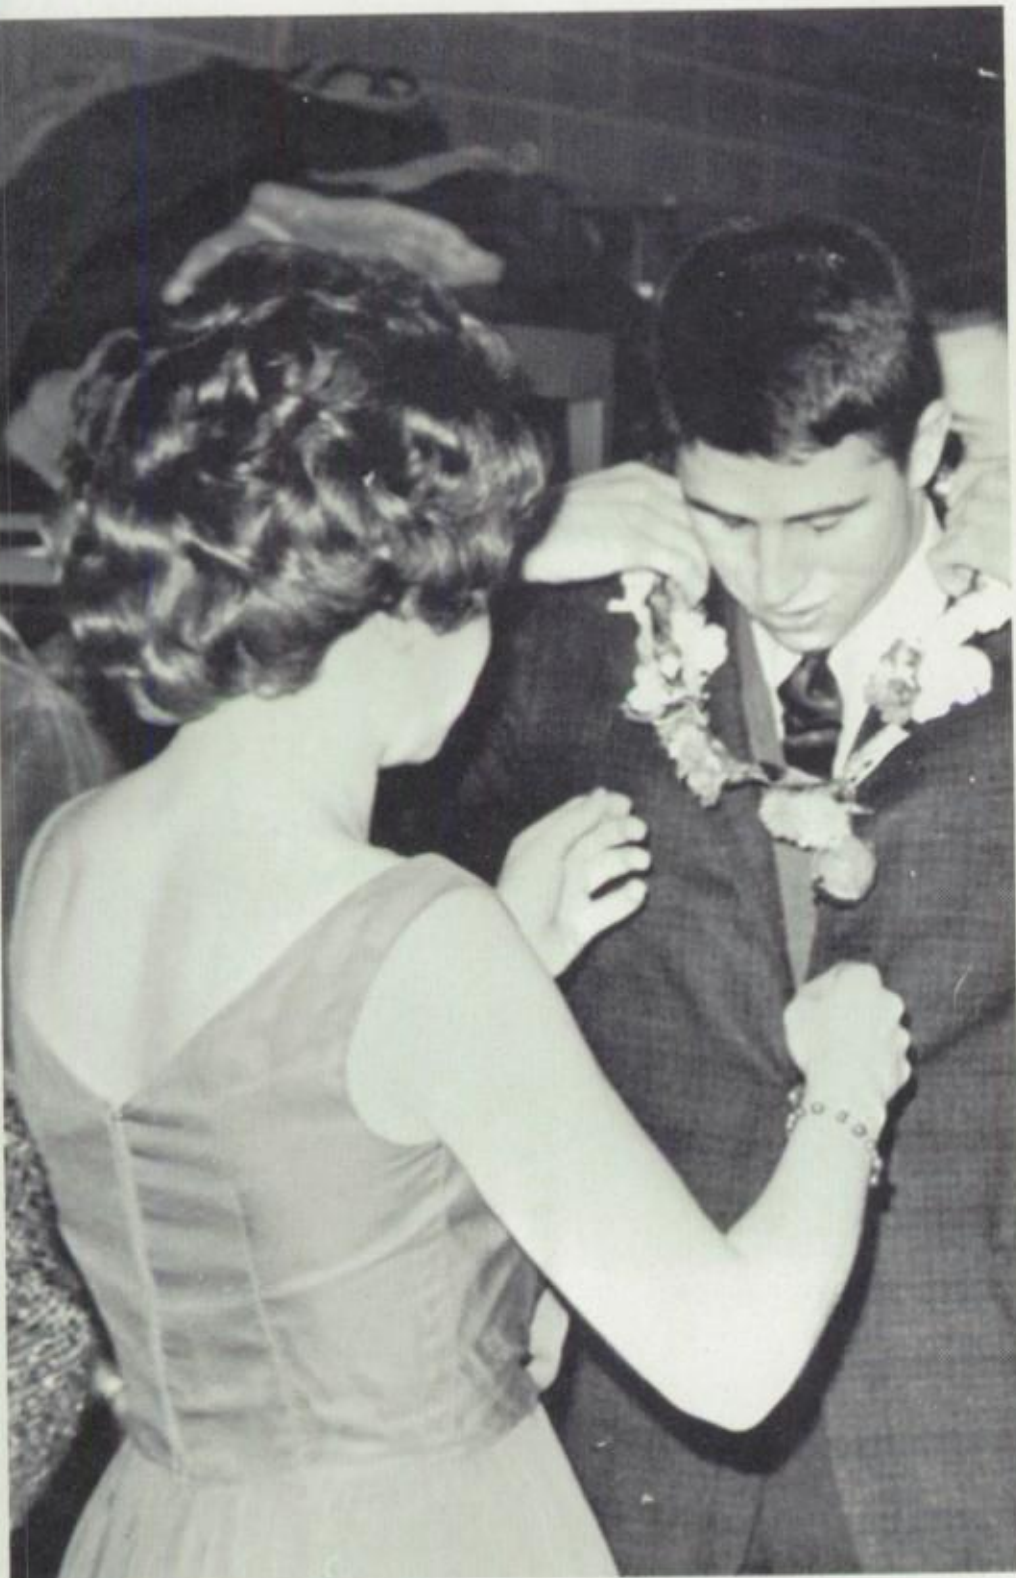

Either they're tired, or they're just sitting one out to talk. In this case, the boys seem to be the conversation enthusiasts!

GIRL-DATE BOY

The theme of the Girl-Date-Boy Dance this year was "JM Goes Hawaiian." The girls made leis for their dates — some of them beautifully made and others made up from "soup to nuts." The couples danced from 9:00 to 11:30 on February 17. Refreshments were also served. The milk machines were covered with huge pineapples, and fish net interlaced with shells was hung from the ceiling to create a Hawaiian atmosphere.

This girl is trying to help her date adjust his flower lei, which was the mark of the dance.

The currently popular "twist" replaced the "hula," despite the Hawaiian theme of the dance.

"GONE WITH THE WIND"

A lawn party on a Southern plantation was the setting for the Junior-Senior Prom. Pillars, trellises of pink and red roses, and a surry decorated the dance floor. This well-attended event was a highlight of the year.

It's too bad there wasn't a talent scout in the area; this chorus line is really swinging!

On April 13, the Spring Dance highlighted the JM cafeteria. The "Rags to Riches" theme carried through very well with the half & half decorations scheme. Even the punch was served in a bucket for the rags and a regular punch bowl for the riches. A railroad track decorated the middle of the room. Dance music was furnished by the Fury's.

SPRING DANCE

These two couples were winners in that they were the 'best' dressed.

Barb Sutherland and Gary Wendland are shown below, and Scott Jones and Nancy Ward are in the picture at the right.

Rehearsals aren't really as bad as everyone says!

Priscilla Lovestedt provides a little distraction as Rick Thorkelson tries to memorize his lines.

FALL PLAY

The first production of the Fine Arts Department, "The Cat and the Canary," was presented on Oct. 27 and 28 under the direction of Mr. Dwain Johnson.

The story took place in an old mansion, a typical setting for a mystery. The main characters were played by Kathie Hanson, Rick Thorkelson, and Joel Barker. Others included in the cast were Harry Harwick, Priscilla Lovestedt, Linda Clark, Bob Kunde, Jerry Bundy, and Terry Terrell.

"The Cat and the Canary" was a combination of mystery, romance, and comedy which presented full entertainment and enjoyment for the audience.

Terry Terrell seems to enjoy torturing Kathie Hanson during a rehearsal of the play.

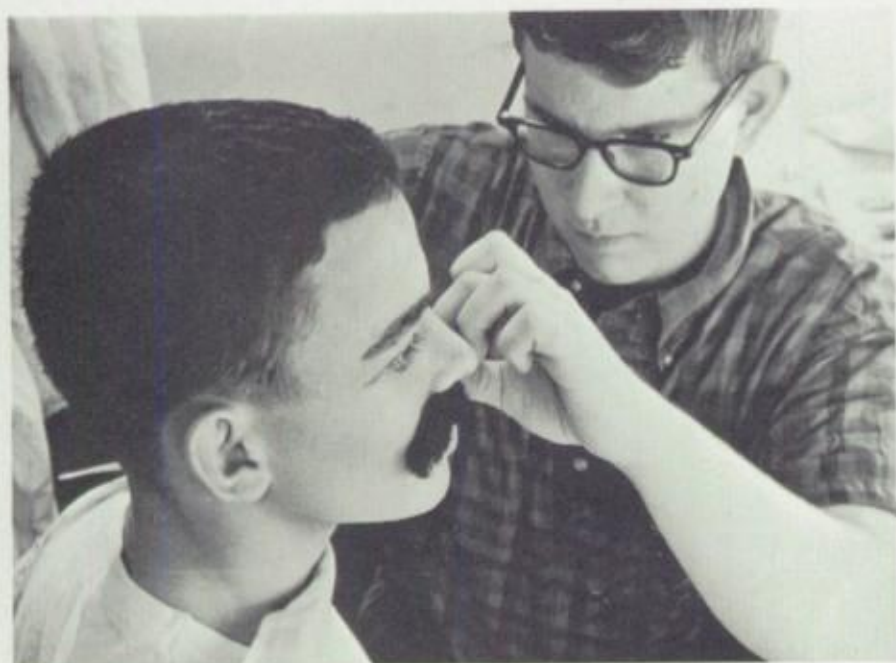

Being inducted into Thespians was indeed a highlight. John Marshall has a very fine dramatics department, and being a part of the Thespians was a well-deserved honor.

The Thespians were organized as an honor society in recognition of the members. The club works to encourage the dramatic arts and to put on more and better productions. The qualifications for membership fall under a point system — ten points are required for membership, and one point equals ten hours of work, either onstage or backstage.

Mr. Burdette Moeller acts as advisor to the group. The officers of the club are:

THESPIANS

Make-up is one of the important aspects in the presentation of a play. Gary Schattschneider focuses his complete attention to the task-at-hand.

Rick Thorkelson is explaining his invention, "the elixer of youth," to John Henderson and Terry Terrell in "Second Childhood."

WINTER PLAY

The winter play, "Second Childhood," was a farce comedy dealing with the astounding invention of an absent-minded professor. His "elixir of youth" supposedly made people's youth return again. The professor's antics, along with the other humorous actions, made the play a most entertaining one for the audience. The main characters were: R. Thorkelson as Dr. Relyea, J. Henderson as Phil Stanton, T. Terrell as General Burbeck, M. Anderson as Auntie, and B. Skow as Sylvia Relyea.

Rick Thorkelson convinces Terry Terrell that his "elixir" will work, as Mary Anderson, John Henderson, and Barb Skow stand by.

Mr. Dwain Johnson, the director, advises and encourages the cast and crew after each rehearsal.

Curly and Jud dramatize this fight scene in the 'dream sequence' of Oklahoma. The dancers did an excellent job, and the sequence proved to be very effective.

OKLAHOMA

Laurey, played by Marilyn Lake, harmonizes with her leading man Curly, portrayed by Joel Barker. The two were a hit.

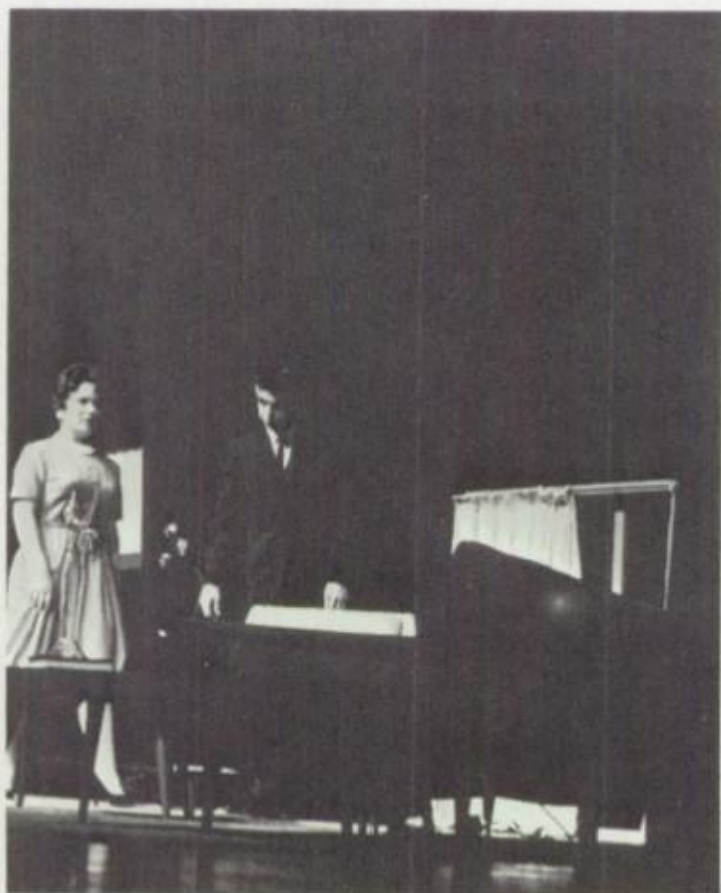

The spectacular "Oklahoma" was presented at JM on Feb. 27 and 28. It was one of the biggest successes ever to be presented, and everyone connected with it had a wonderful time working with it. The Rodgers and Hammerstein production was co-directed by Mr. Johnson, dramatics coach, and Mr. Suddendorf, musical-director. The main characters were enacted by J. Barker as Curly, M. Lake as Laury, C. McGinnis as Aunt Eller, T. Terrell as Jud, J. Elkins as Ado Annie, J. Henderson as Will, and H. Harwick as Ali Hakim. Almost 3900 people attended the two performances and gave the cast and crew a standing ovation at the last performance!

Scenery crew members wash flats in preparation for "Dark Victory."

SPRING PLAY

Dr. Frederick Steele, played by T. Tervo, and Judith Traherne, played by J. Cockrill, are shown in Miss Traherne's living room in JM's production of "Dark Victory."

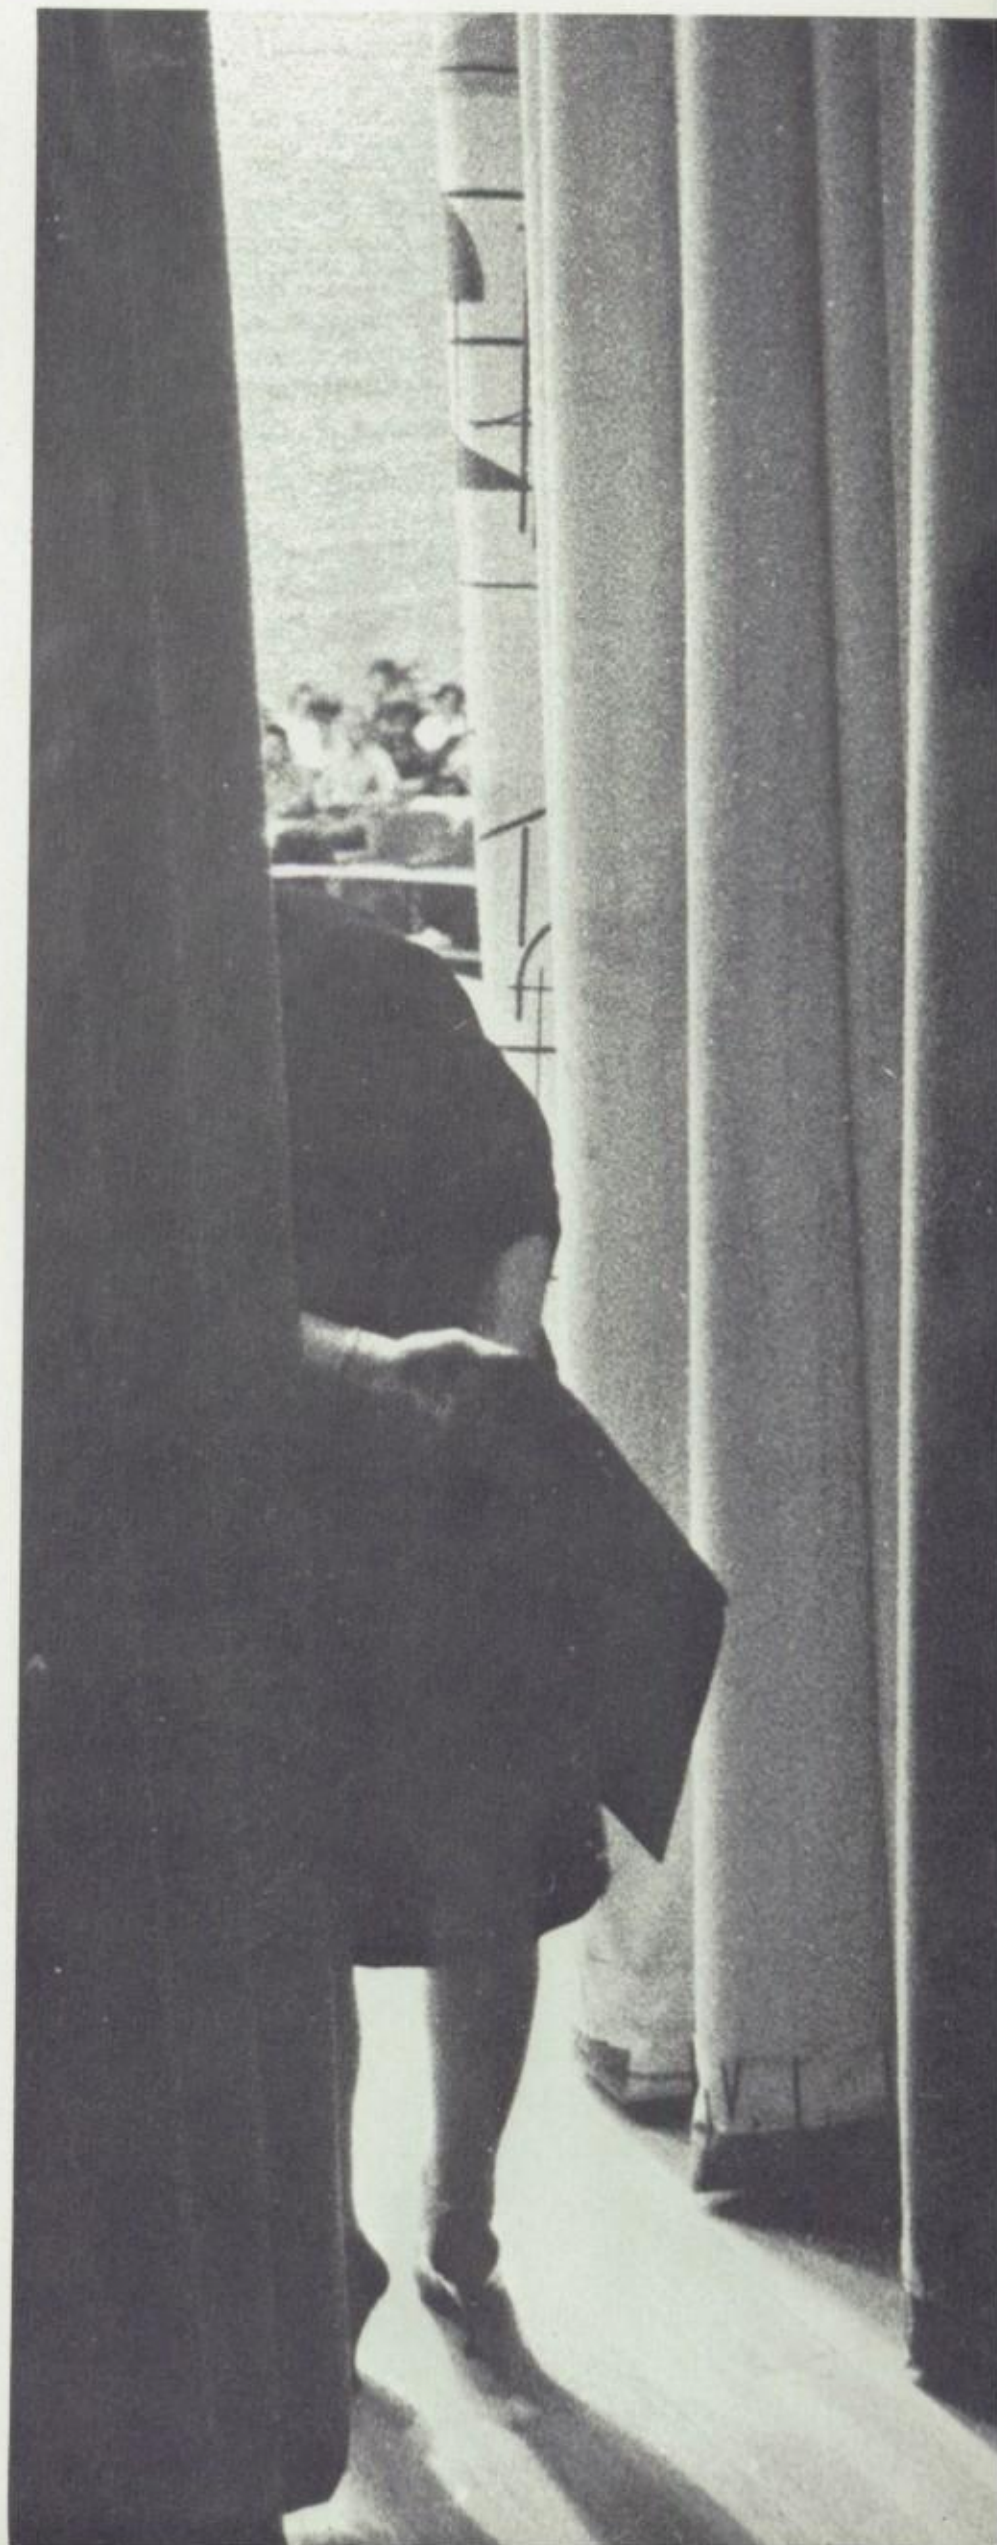

Bleak settings add to the effect as Miss Traherne's illness is explained to her.

ASSEMBLIES

The assemblies are one of the highlights in the well-planned program of JM's administration. The wide and varied subjects dealt with appeal to each and every one of us. John Marshall is very fortunate in having such a wide span of assembly programs which prove to be educational, timely, entertaining, and most of all, extremely interesting.

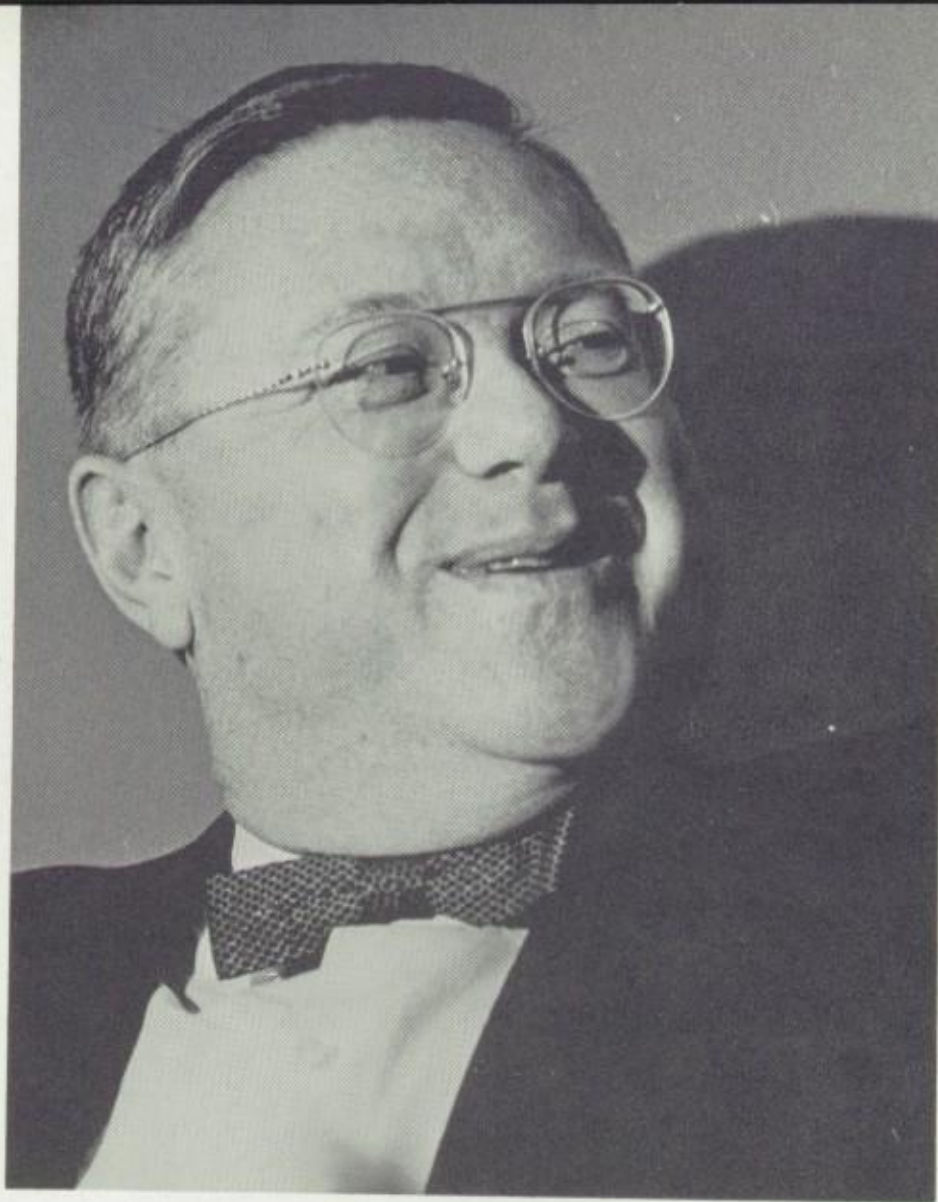

One of the most interesting and educational assemblies was the "Nuclear Physics" presentation by Floyd Davis. Everyone enjoyed his down-to-earth explanations and experiments.

A treat for JM was the visit of Governor Andersen. He almost didn't make it, with the adverse weather conditions, but we were all happy to hear his timely message.

Those students who heard Senator Sandy Keith talk found it very interesting to hear about his past and new experiences in government.

The special guest speaker at the MEA Convention in Rochester this year was Sam Levenson, who completely captivated and delighted his audience.

One of the greatest trumpet players in the world was featured at a special concert sponsored by the Welhaven Music Co. This outstanding musician was Rafael Mendez. A special massed band was assembled to accompany Mr. Mendez.

There was a good turnout at the recreation night sponsored by the Student Council. Activities included basketball, volleyball, badminton, swimming, and even square-dancing.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council acts as an organization representing the student body of JM. The members attempt to act on the students' suggestions for school improvement. Many problems concerning the school and its administration are undertaken by the council. Class presidents, club presidents, and the foreign exchange students also participate in this organization along with the regular elected members. The Student Council sponsors various activities throughout the year.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y held the interests of many fellows. Here some of them are shown at a work meeting.

The Hi-Y strives "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the homes, school, and community high standards of Christian character." There are four chapters: Dr. Howard Gray, Beta Rho, Alta Cur, and Delta Phi. Their activities usually include retreats with other Hi-Y clubs from the state. This year it was the "Youth and Government" program at the State Capitol.

These girls playing "crack the whip" obviously had to find some way to keep warm at the skating party.

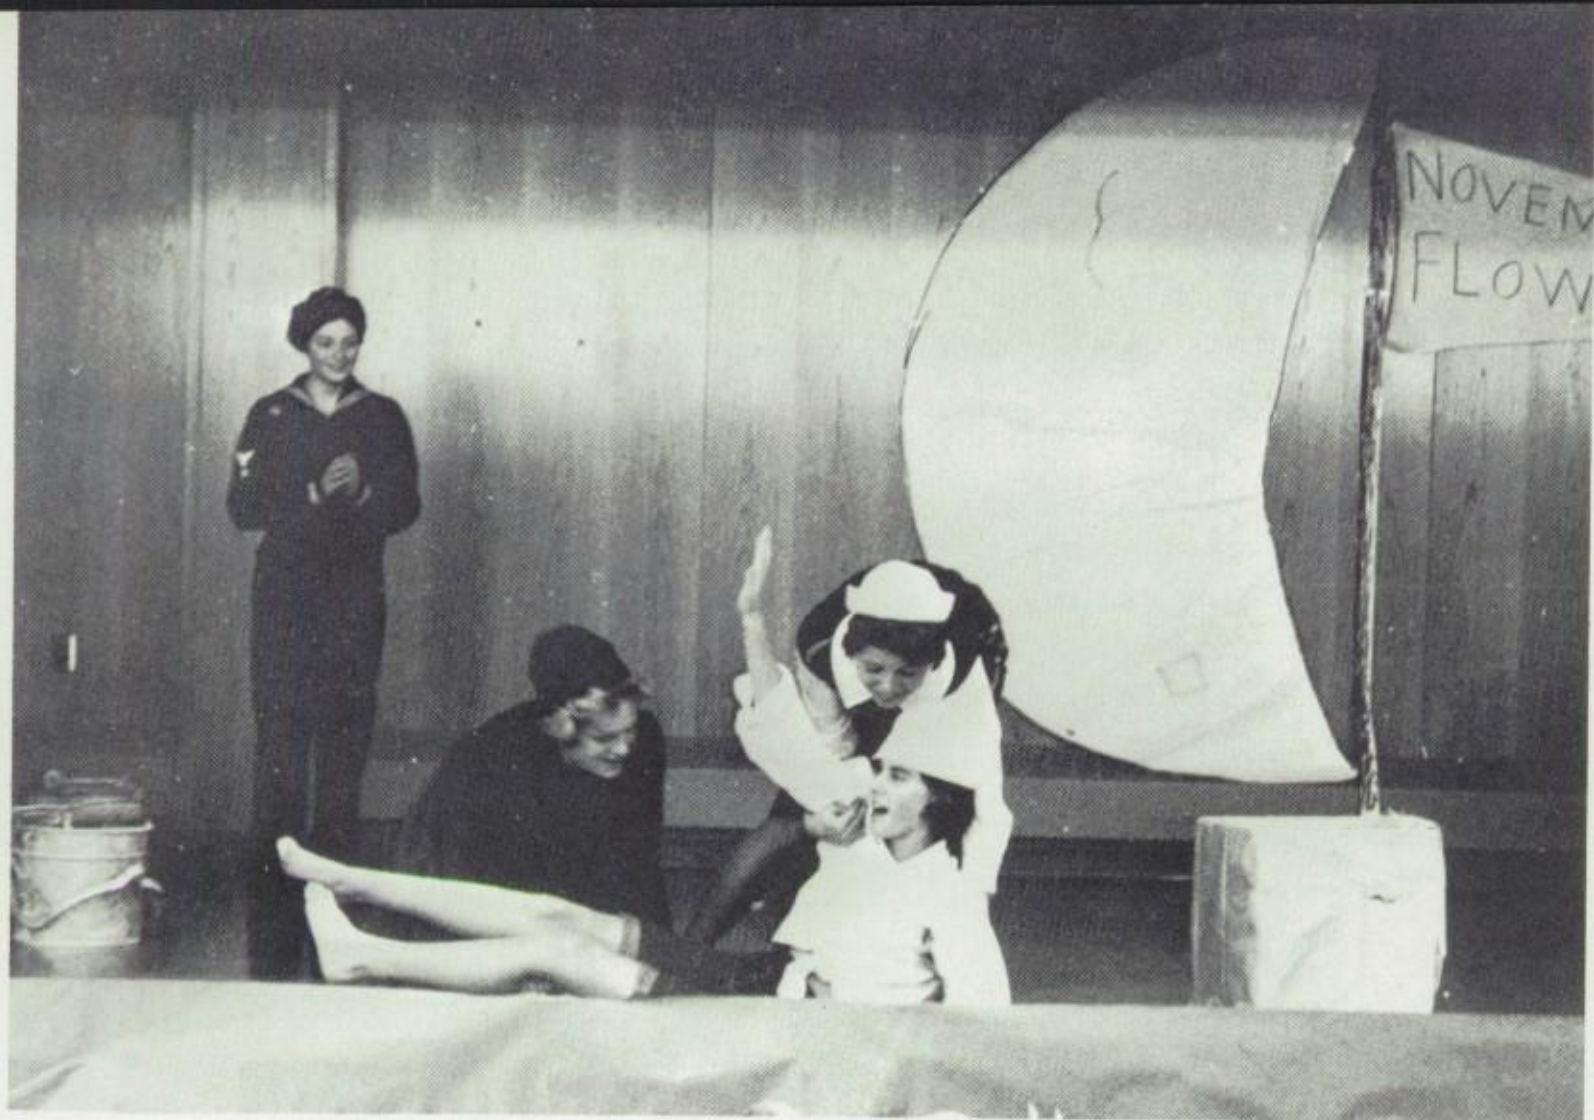

The Girls' Club is one of the most active clubs at JM. The real purpose of the organization is to have fun and to promote better friendship between the students. The warm relationship between a big sis and a little sis is most often a lasting one. Central Board, made up of 25 senior girls, guides and governs the clubs' activities, which are many. The girls honor their mothers and fathers at the annual Mother-Daughter Tea and the Father-Daughter Dance. The Mystery Sister program, one of the highlights of the club, and timely enjoyable activities are inter-mingled throughout the year's program.

Allison Bach goes by the saying, "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

The punch table was a welcome sight for the more active dancers at the Father-Daughter Dance.

These actresses put on quite a show for the girls and their fathers in November. They're enjoying it, anyway.

GIRLS' CLUB

Diane St. George has caught the attention of all, including her big sis, Sandy Kruger, president of Girls' Club.

I.R.C.

Spectators enjoy watching a student as he tries his hand at the "pinata."

The International Relations Club strives to learn about the people in other lands and to broaden their knowledge of different customs. A speaker who is from or has been in a foreign country talks at each meeting, usually accompanying his talk with slides, etc. The highlight of each year is the festive costume party. Miss Kloos is faculty adviser.

Students dressed in costumes from foreign countries was an outstanding highlight at the IRC party.

Bob Roesler spent the summer months before his senior year in the Philippines. Here he is shown chatting with some of the friends he made.

The American Field Service strives to promote friendship and understanding among the countries of the world. The teenagers selected are 'ambassadors of good will.' The two foreign students at JM this year were France Donon of France and Haruko Egusa of Japan. Students of JM found it was very interesting and educational to hear the two girls talk about their countries, especially when they compared America to their homelands. They were always asked, "What do you like best about America?" France and Haruko seemed to readily enjoy their stay here. We only hope that we gave them a better understanding of America.

A.F.S.

Haruko and France had a "ball" with our good old American snowball fights.

OFFICERS: N. Martens, Librarian; C. Brumm, Social chairman; K. Pool, Vice-president; B. Baldes, President; B. Sues, Treasurer; V. Noser, Secretary.

The purpose of FTA is to acquaint high school and college students with the teaching field which they may be considering as a vocation. The Rochester chapter has many varied activities which prove interesting and also keep them busy. In the past year, student teachers at JM and a special-help teacher have spoken at the meetings. The club also took a trip to the University of Minnesota, where they heard lectures on the teaching field.

Student teaching helped the members decide what field of teaching they would like best.

Other activities included a faculty tea, sponsorship of the Girl-Date-Boy Dance, a club picnic, and also a picnic for the JM chapter put on by the Junior College chapter.

FTA

The students who did practice teaching for FTA found their duties varied — including bundling up children for outdoors — but it was interesting and enjoyable.

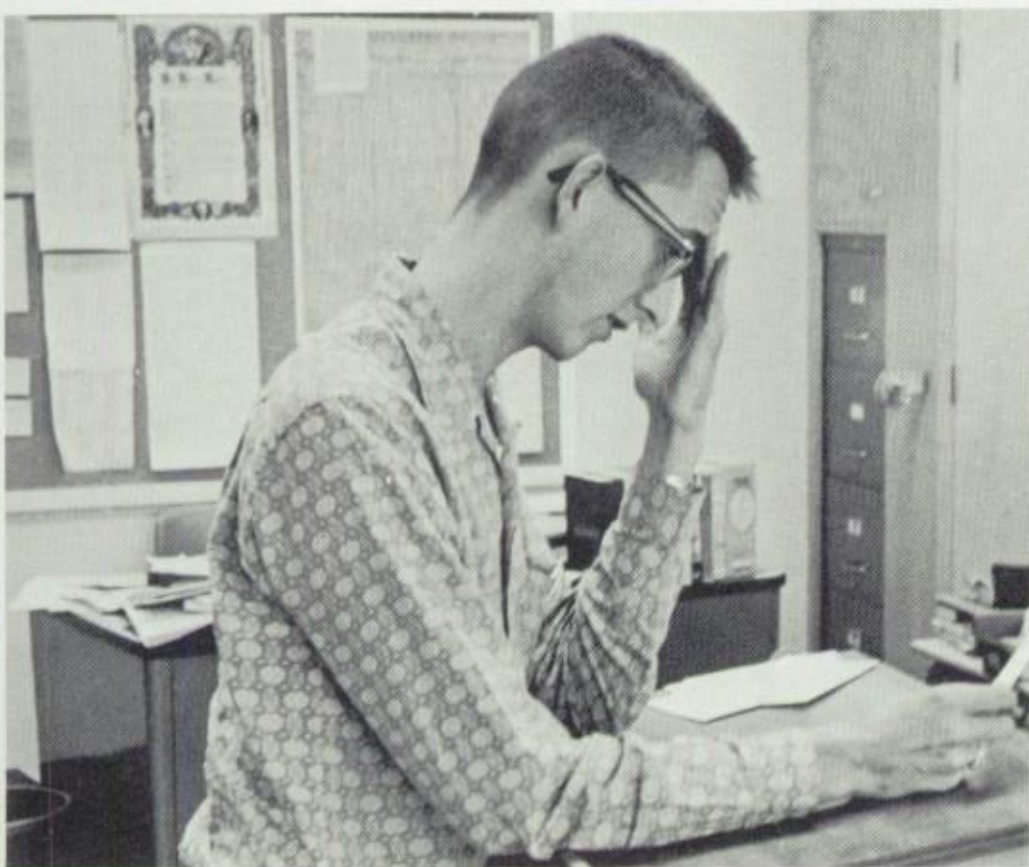

Mr. Peterson, debate advisor, seems to be choking on something; or is he just vitally interested in the speaker's talk?

DEBATE

Debate offers a wide variety of interests and activities for its participants. The goal, learning to speak effectively, is a challenging one; but it carries with it the promise of future success and self-improvement.

The qualifications of debators are to think quickly, to speak well, to have a desire to study, and to be a better-than-average student.

Phil Voxland prepares to launch another tirade in support of his point of view during debate practice.

The team, under the leadership of Mr. Peterson, holds tournaments with other teams, which adds greatly to their skill and experience.

Debate had been absent from the curriculum for several years, but it got a start last year. It was under a test period this year — a beginning of organization. Phil Voxland acts as president of the group.

CAMERA CLUB

The camera club has been in existence for two years. It is a hobby for some, and it also gives an idea of what professional photography would be like. The members have contests between themselves to see who can take and develop the best pictures. They also take pictures of many of the school functions. Fred Mayo is president of the club, and the advisor is Mr. Bruce Arntson.

These two camera enthusiasts spend their spare time developing pictures.

Club members compare pictures and discuss the good and bad points.

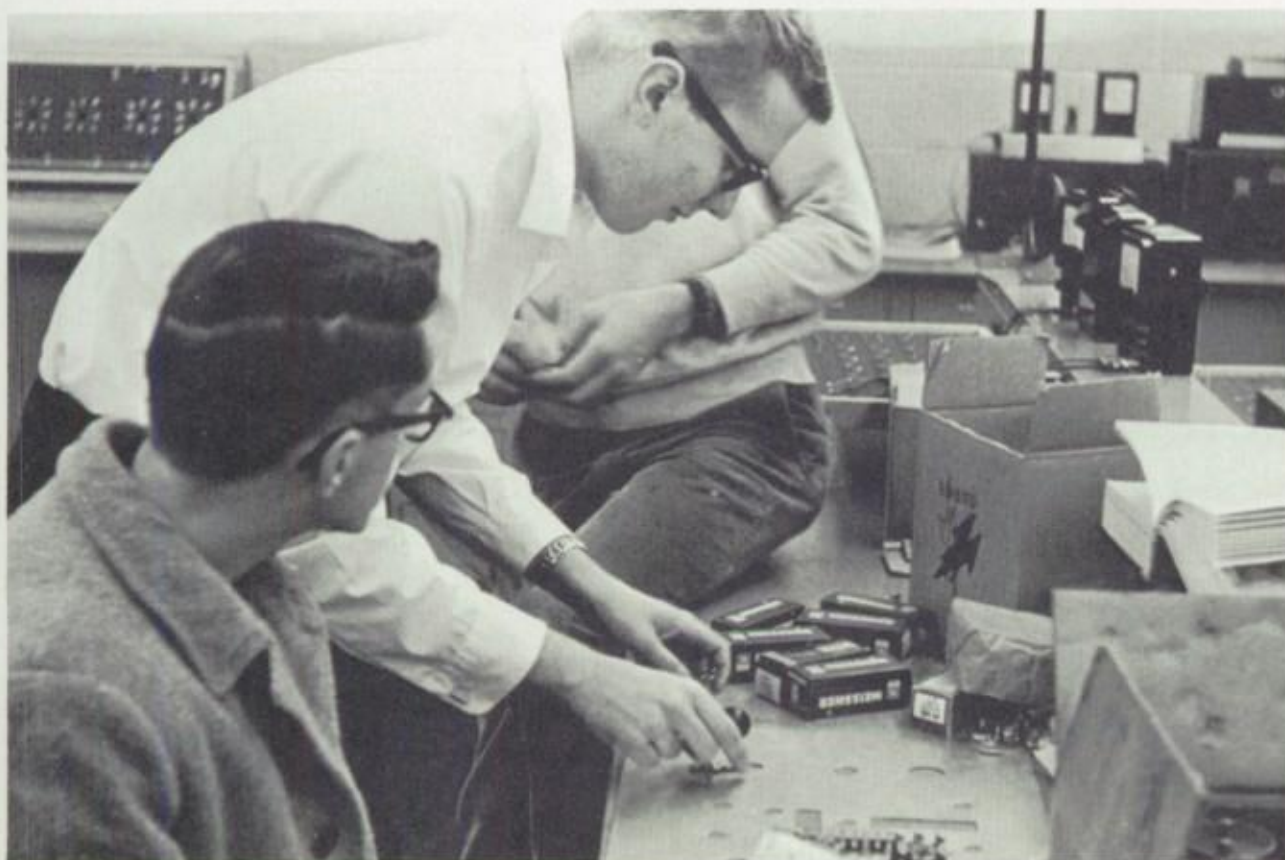

This radio enthusiast dons his headset and goes to work.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club, in its first year, has held work meetings every Saturday morning. This type of activity provides interesting work and enjoyment for the club members. Their objective is to create an interest in electronics, and also to help those who wish to earn an amateur license to be able to pass the examination. The club would eventually like to operate as an amateur radio station. Mr Blasczyk is advisor to the group.

It would take an expert to get something out of this confusion!

A club member takes a few minutes to think about what he is doing.

It looks as if one of the club members won't get near live experiments unless he has a ten-foot pole handy.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science and Technology Club works as an organization to increase, explore, and improve our knowledge, interests, and skills in science. The Club is a member of the Science Clubs of America, JETS, and the Minn. Junior Academy of Science. One of the more active of the sub-interest groups is the Speleology Club, whose main function is the exploration of caves. Annually, with the help of the advisors, Mr. Welte, Mr. McCormack, and Mr. Cordes, the members prepare science projects which are exhibited at the Science Fair.

LEFT: "Lower away," says Josh Grindlay to a buddy.

Members of the Speleology Club get set to do some 'vast exploring' of caves.

Various members of the club strike a smiling pose.

Ken Wolfram, president of the Future Farmers of America, is enjoying the sun with the FFA advisor, Mr. Woodman.

The Future Farmers of America is for boys studying vocational agriculture in high school. The Rochester chapter was named after Dr. Christopher Graham.

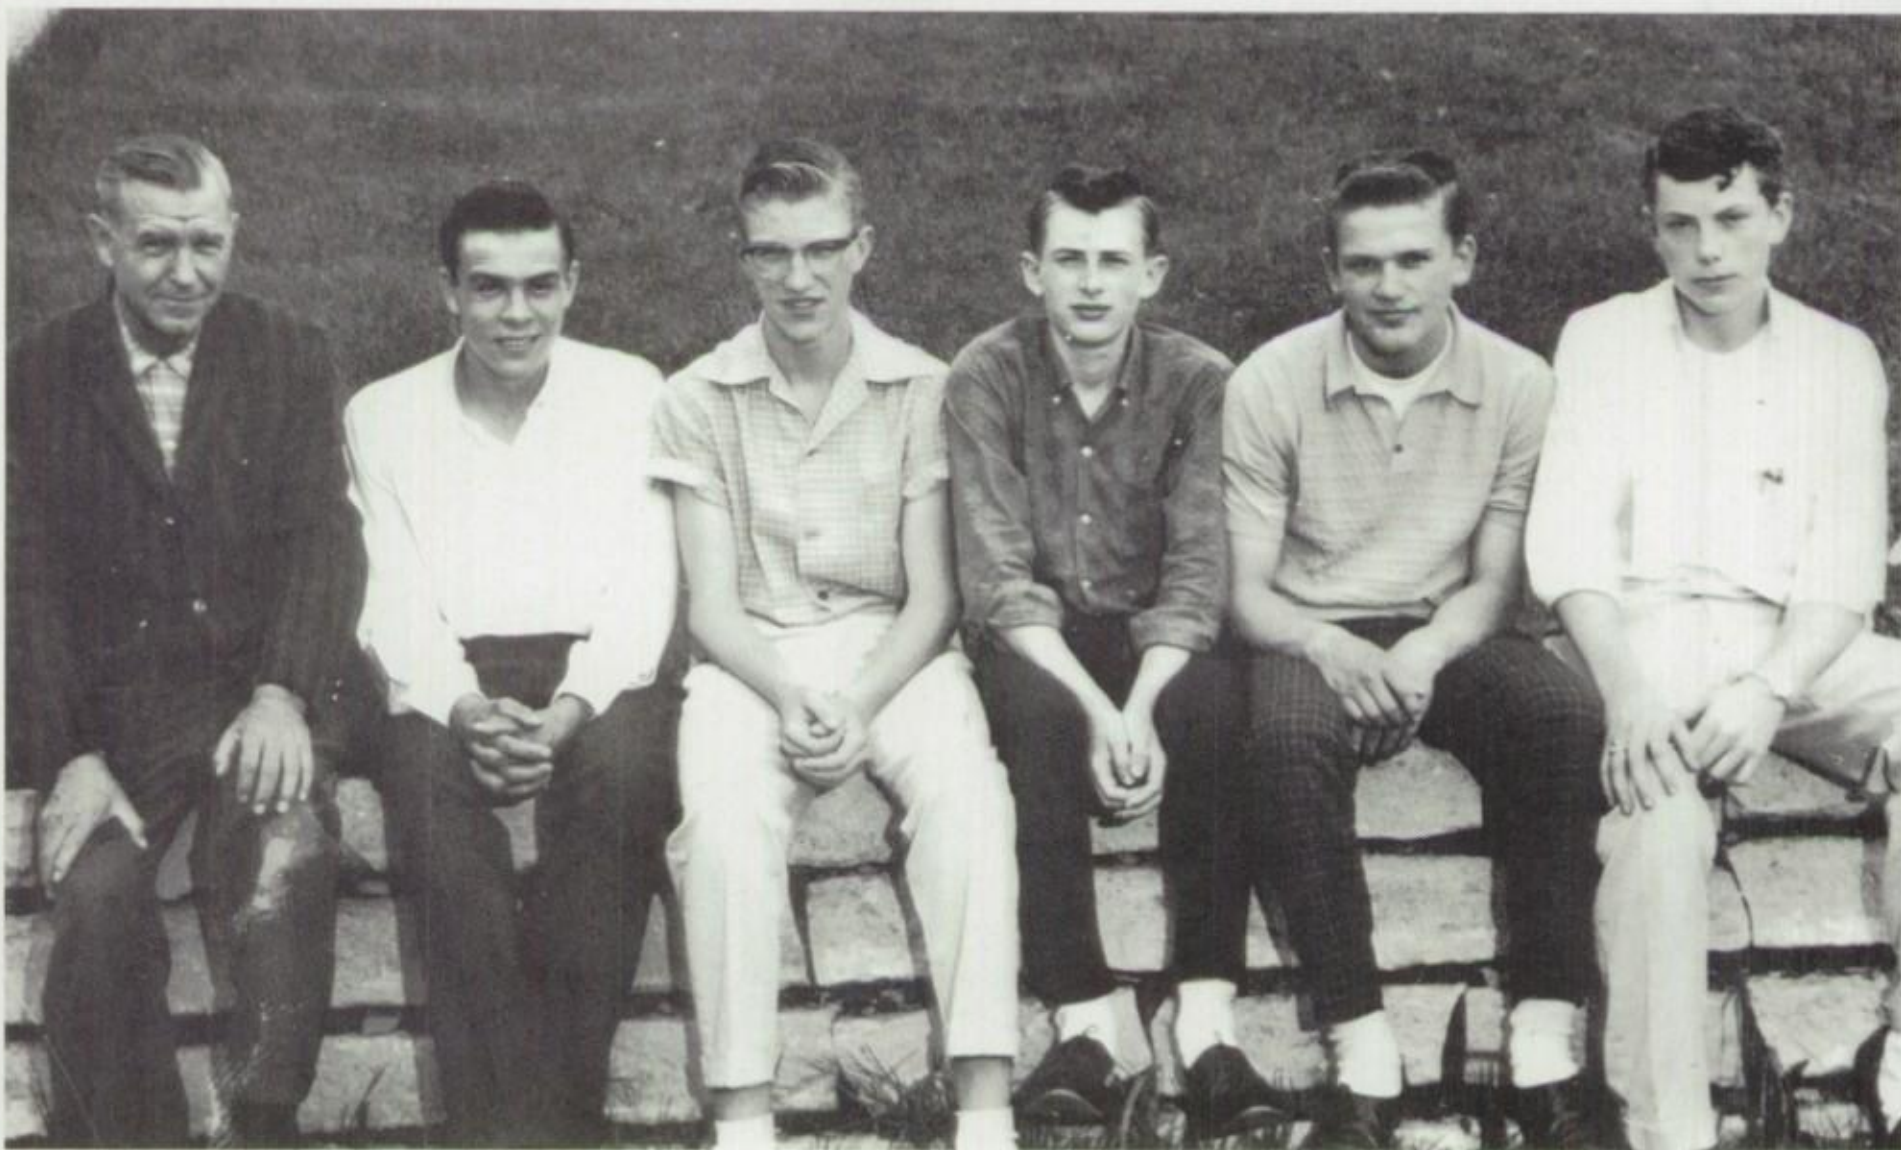

The boys in FFA learn how to take part in and conduct public meetings, to speak in public, to buy and sell co-operatively, to solve their own problems, to finance themselves, and to assume civic responsibilities.

These boys, under the direction of Mr. Woodman, also take part in many FFA projects and occasionally go on trips.

This is a fine organization for all boys who are interested in vocational agriculture.

FFA

These boys make up the Future Farmers of America at John Marshall. The club isn't really that small — obviously, quite a few members were unavailable for the picture.

This inattentive chess player can obviously afford to take his mind off the game now and then.

CHESS CLUB

The game of chess provides a challenging and interesting outlet for the club members. They meet once a week to — you guessed it — play chess. Their aims are to learn and enjoy the game of chess and to teach it to new members. The club is always looking for new people who are interested in the game. Mr. Schultz is advisor to the group.

Club members find that concentration is an essential element in this game of thought.

The 1961-62 officers: Barb Else, President; Sue Sauer, Vice-President; Terry Mayer, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Pep Club is designed to promote good sportsmanship and school spirit. It has always been an effective means of putting forth the desired outcome. Some of their activities include planning the pep fests, making publicity posters, and selling shakers and booster buttons. "R" pins are awarded to those seniors who have earned the required number of points through active participation.

PEP CLUB

The basketball highlight of the year was the game between the faculty and the B-squad. Everyone especially liked the peppy cheers (?) demonstrated by Miss Braden and Mrs. Darling.

This was a common sight during the basketball season — the congregated AMPC making a lot of noise for the benefit of school spirit.

The All Male Pep Club is a new organization with good student backing. Mike Rounds and John Henderson actually started it by getting a bunch of guys together at a basketball game to promote school spirit. It has grown and accomplished its original purpose. Club members think it has good prospects: With faculty supervision and good organization, it can continue to step up school spirit.

A.M.P.C.

In their fourth successful year, the Rockettes, composed of 32 girls, are again exhibiting their intricate performances for half-time entertainment. The drill team, under the new leadership of Miss Hoffart and Mrs. Harper, is fulfilling its main objective of maintaining JM school spirit. From their first performance of the year at the State Student Council Convention through the basketball season, the Rockettes have served their school proudly and well.

The JM Choir and its divisions play an important part in the active year at John Marshall. It was called upon to perform at the SEMEA Convention this year and had a large part in the Christmas assembly. It was also asked to sing at the State Fair last summer, and of course, the highlight of the year was the presentation of "Oklahoma." Other divisions of the music department are the Chamber Singers, a group of select singers who perform at special occasions, and the Girls' Chorus, which grooms them in the basics of reading music and counting rhythms. Mr. Suddendorf is the director of the choir and head of the music department.

The band finally got their much-wanted trip to Canada. Here they are shown disembarking from the train.

BAND

Enlivening various school activities is our 91-member band. Led by the drum major and three majorettes, the band marches for all home football games — often through wind, rain, and cold — maintaining high quality through great enthusiasm. The band marches in the Homecoming and Memorial Day parades and presents three formal concerts a year. A picture of the Rocket band appears yearly in "The First Chair of America," a publication honoring the nation's finest high school bands.

The John Marshall Symphony Orchestra is well trained in its ability to master the wide range of music that is performed. The three yearly concerts give the orchestra members a chance to show their improving talent and also enables others to hear JM's fine orchestra. Several members are selected each year to participate in the Select Orchestra at the Big 9 Music Festival.

To Betsy Baldes, the long hours of orchestra practice can become discouraging.

Putting out a newspaper requires much time and effort. Here the staff even has its advisor hard at work.

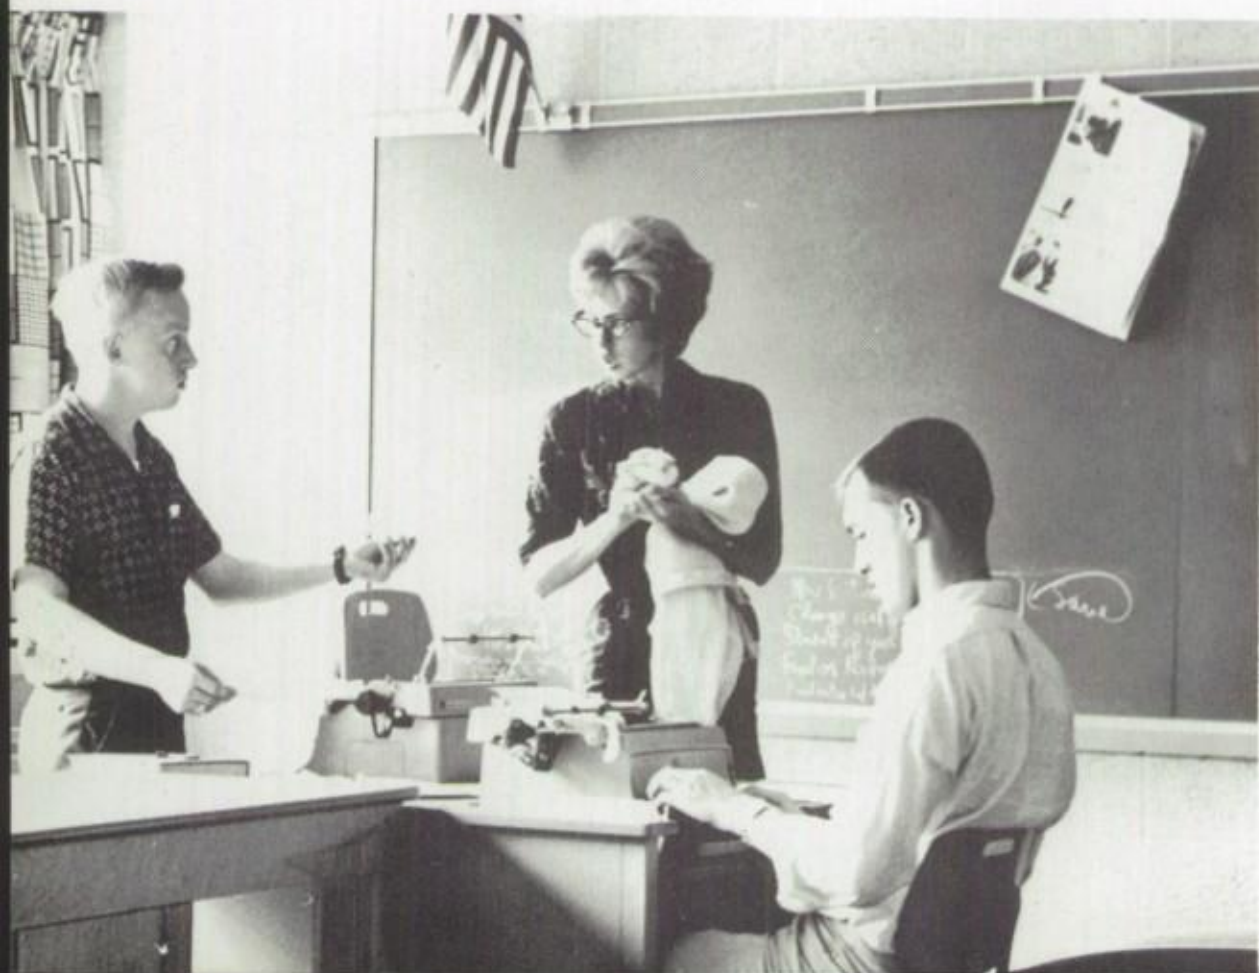

The Rocket is published 12 times a year by the journalism class at JM. The paper was expanded this year to six pages, the largest in JM history. The staff is composed of 29 workers with Mr. Bill Ward as advisor. The paper has received the Gallup award, Quill & Scroll International honors, and the title of All-American. In 1961 and 1962, Chuck McKeen and Joel Barker were named the top high school sports writers in the nation.

BOY'S INTRAMURALS

The first boy's intramural sports program was begun this year. After relative failure during the first few weeks, the program gradually picked up and has become another good extracurricular JM activity. Between six and ten boys participated at first; however, the number gradually grew to about thirty. In the fall, volleyball, swimming, and basketball were the selected sports. Bowling seemed to be the favorite sport of the athletes during the winter months. Softball and possibly soccer are offered in the spring.

LEFT: These two volleyball lovers really throw themselves into the game!

BELOW: There seems to be some discussion as to what is going on during this basketball game.

LEFT: Two girls' wait impatiently to return a slam.

BELOW: Think she'll make it? It looks like an easy basket.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Girls' Sports give JM girls an opportunity to develop good team spirit, good sportsmanship, and also good character. Their activities include volleyball, basketball, badminton, and swimming. Miss Braden advises the sophomore girls, and Mrs. Darling has charge of the junior and senior girls.

RIGHT: Steve Lampman tries pole-vaulting . . . it looks like he's going to make it.

During practice, Larry Noser does a smooth hurdle jump.

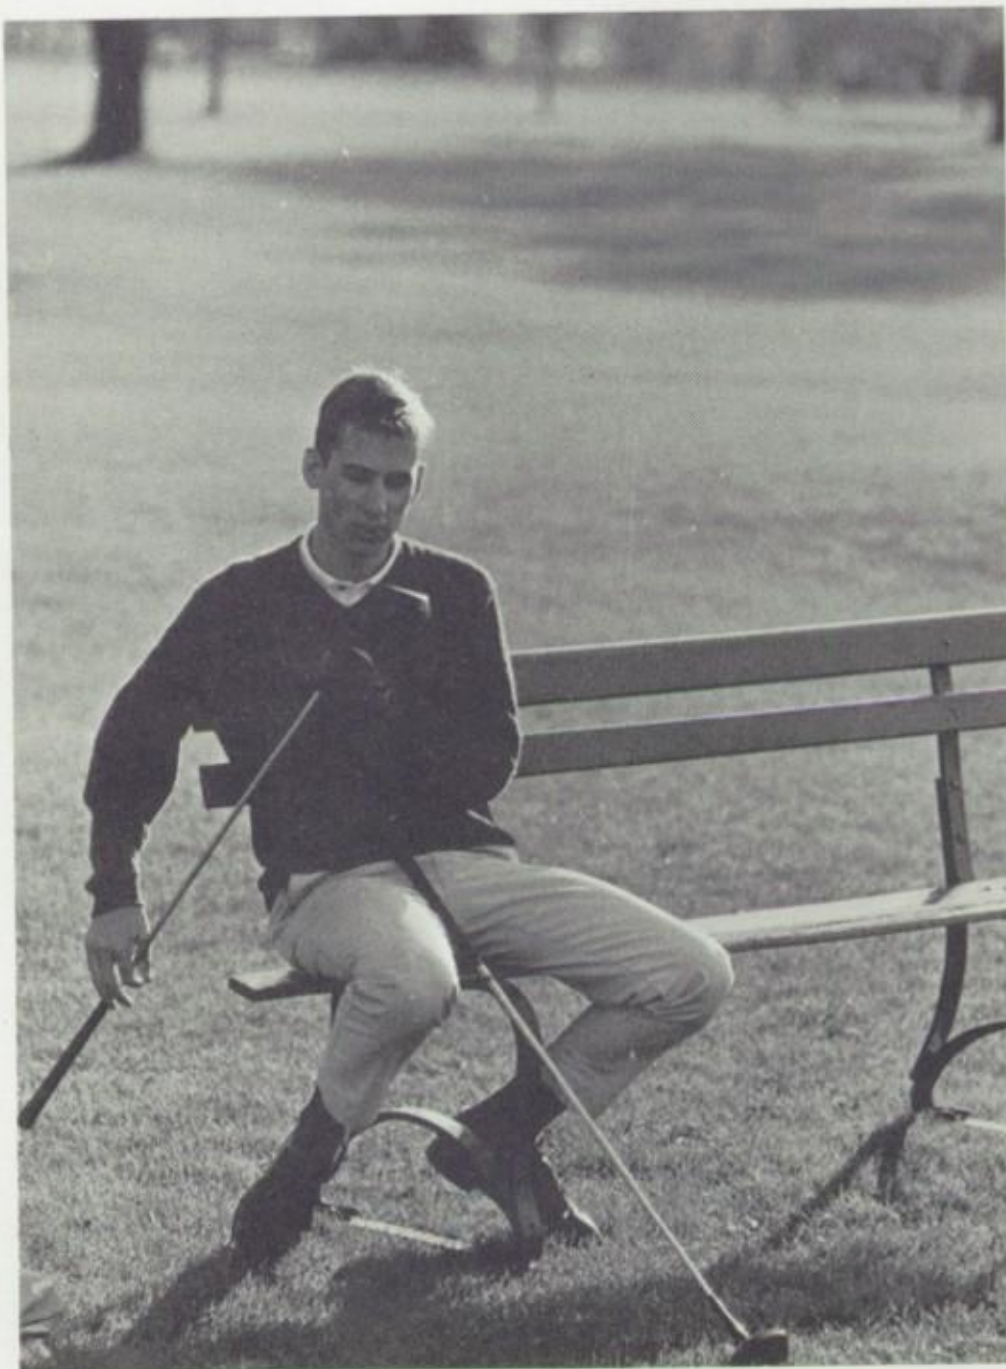

Bruce Anderson, Ken Wiley, Jerry Cox, Bill Scholer, and Lowell Fredin practice by running up and down the stairs and through the halls of John Marshall.

The JM track team finished with a successful season after working hard and long to make it so. The trackmen lost only one meet — with Albert Lea.

They took first in an area meet April 17, and second in a Winona-Red Wing-Rocket meet April 19. The Rockets won the district meet at Winona, placed third in the regional at Austin, and came in fourth in the conference, also at Austin, rounding out the season.

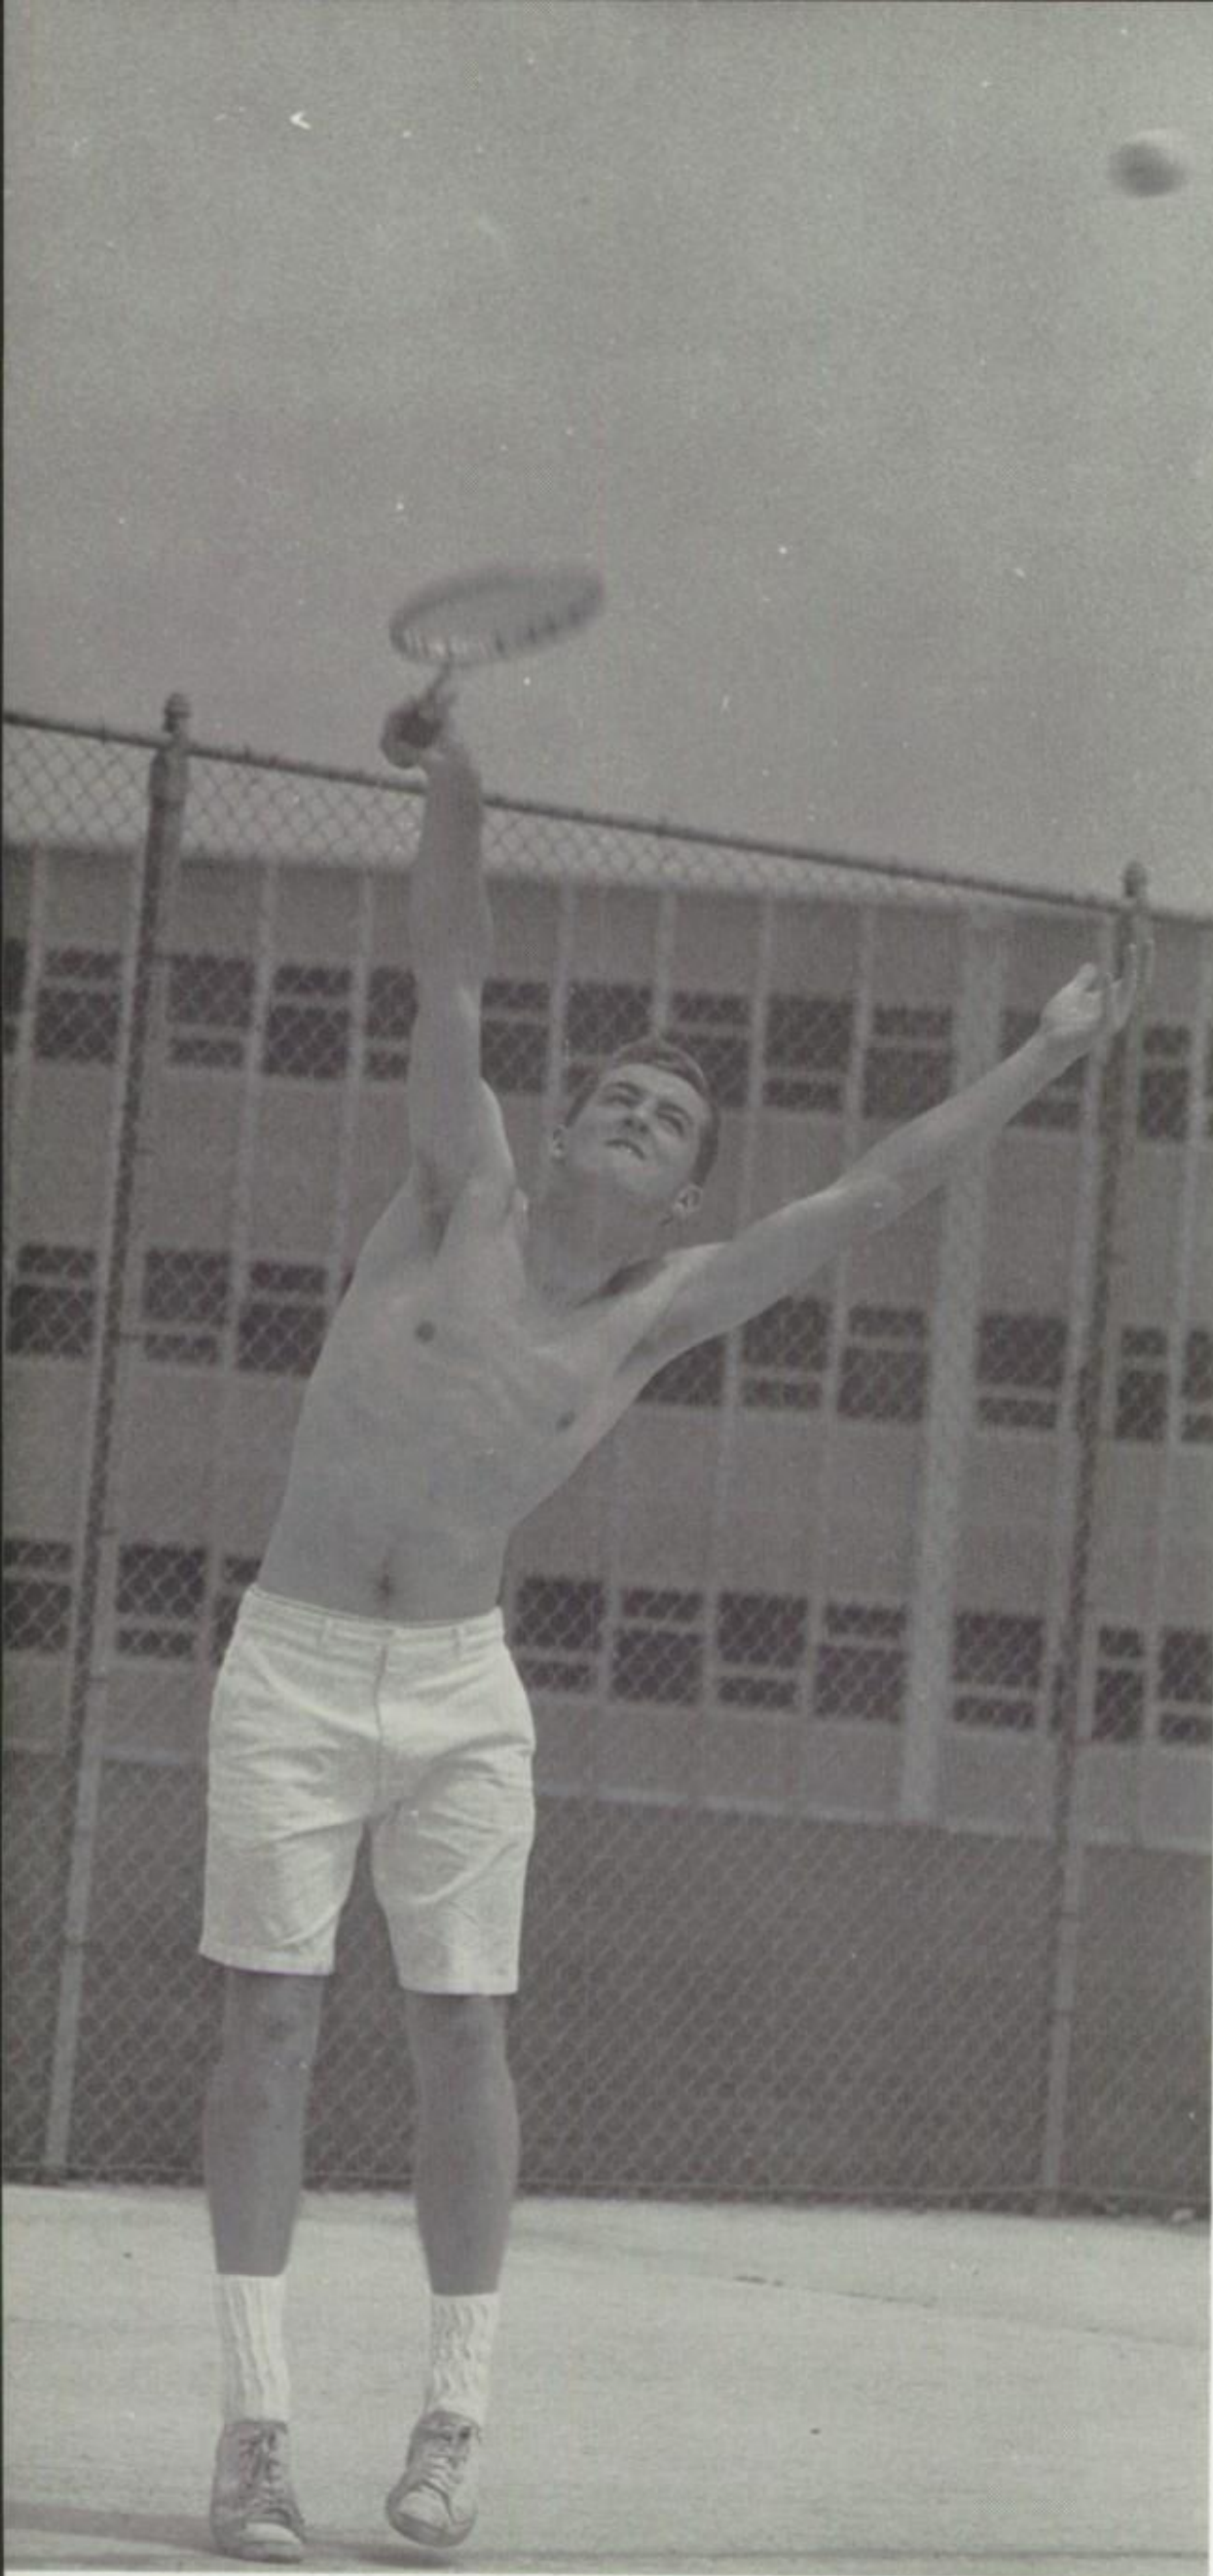

RIGHT: Jim Bugonian checks his clubs for nicks or bends.
 BELOW: Bill Hagen looks as professional as Arnold Palmer intently watching the ball roll down the green.

GOLF

The JM golf team has turned out some fine golfers this year. There are always problems and handicaps every year, but this year's team has fared remarkably well. They placed first in the District Meet at Rochester May 19, second in the regional here on May 26, and fourth in the conference meet held at Red Wing on June 2. Prospects for next year's team are excellent.

TENNIS

JM turned out an exceptional tennis team this year. They lost only two matches — one to Owatonna on April 27, and the other to Faribault Shattuck. The Rocket tennis team walked off with first place in the district, regional, Big 9, and state matches. Chuck Darley placed first in each, and Bob Gray, second. We really have a team to be proud of!

Joel Barker puts all he has into a serve.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character in the students of American high schools. The faculty, with the help of Mr. Burrington, the advisor, selects the candidates for membership on the basis of scholarship, ability in leadership, service, and character. The induction ceremony is held before Easter, and the members enjoy a picnic at the end of the year.

At the Mid-year Awards Assembly, Mr. Rehwaldt had the privilege of making the introductions.

NATIONAL MERIT FINALISTS

ROW 1: Marcia Monson, Judy Meadows, Carolyn Brown, Sue Smith, Sue Burchell
 ROW 2: Phil Voxland, Dave Berkman, Maurice Stauffer, Ned Bayrd.

Each year, two students from JM, a girl and a boy, are selected to attend the Girls' and Boys' State held for a week in the Twin Cities. Here they can better acquaint themselves with the processes of government and acquire an understanding of what they, as teenagers, can do for the government.

Nancy Ward, GIRLS' STATE REPRESENTATIVE and Roger Nelson, BOYS' STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Bob MacCarty, President
Sue Davis, Secretary-Treasurer
Josh Grindlay, Vice-President

Preparations for the early-morning senior breakfast were begun far in advance.

SENIOR

Privileged seniors passed through the food line, happy at the thought of not having to wait for underclassmen.

Our distinguished speaker at the Senior Breakfast was Dr. A. B. Hayles. He gave a timely talk on students' preparation for college and life.

BREAKFAST

The seniors were "serenaded" by the Marshallaires, a group of talented boys from the JM choir.

GRADUATION

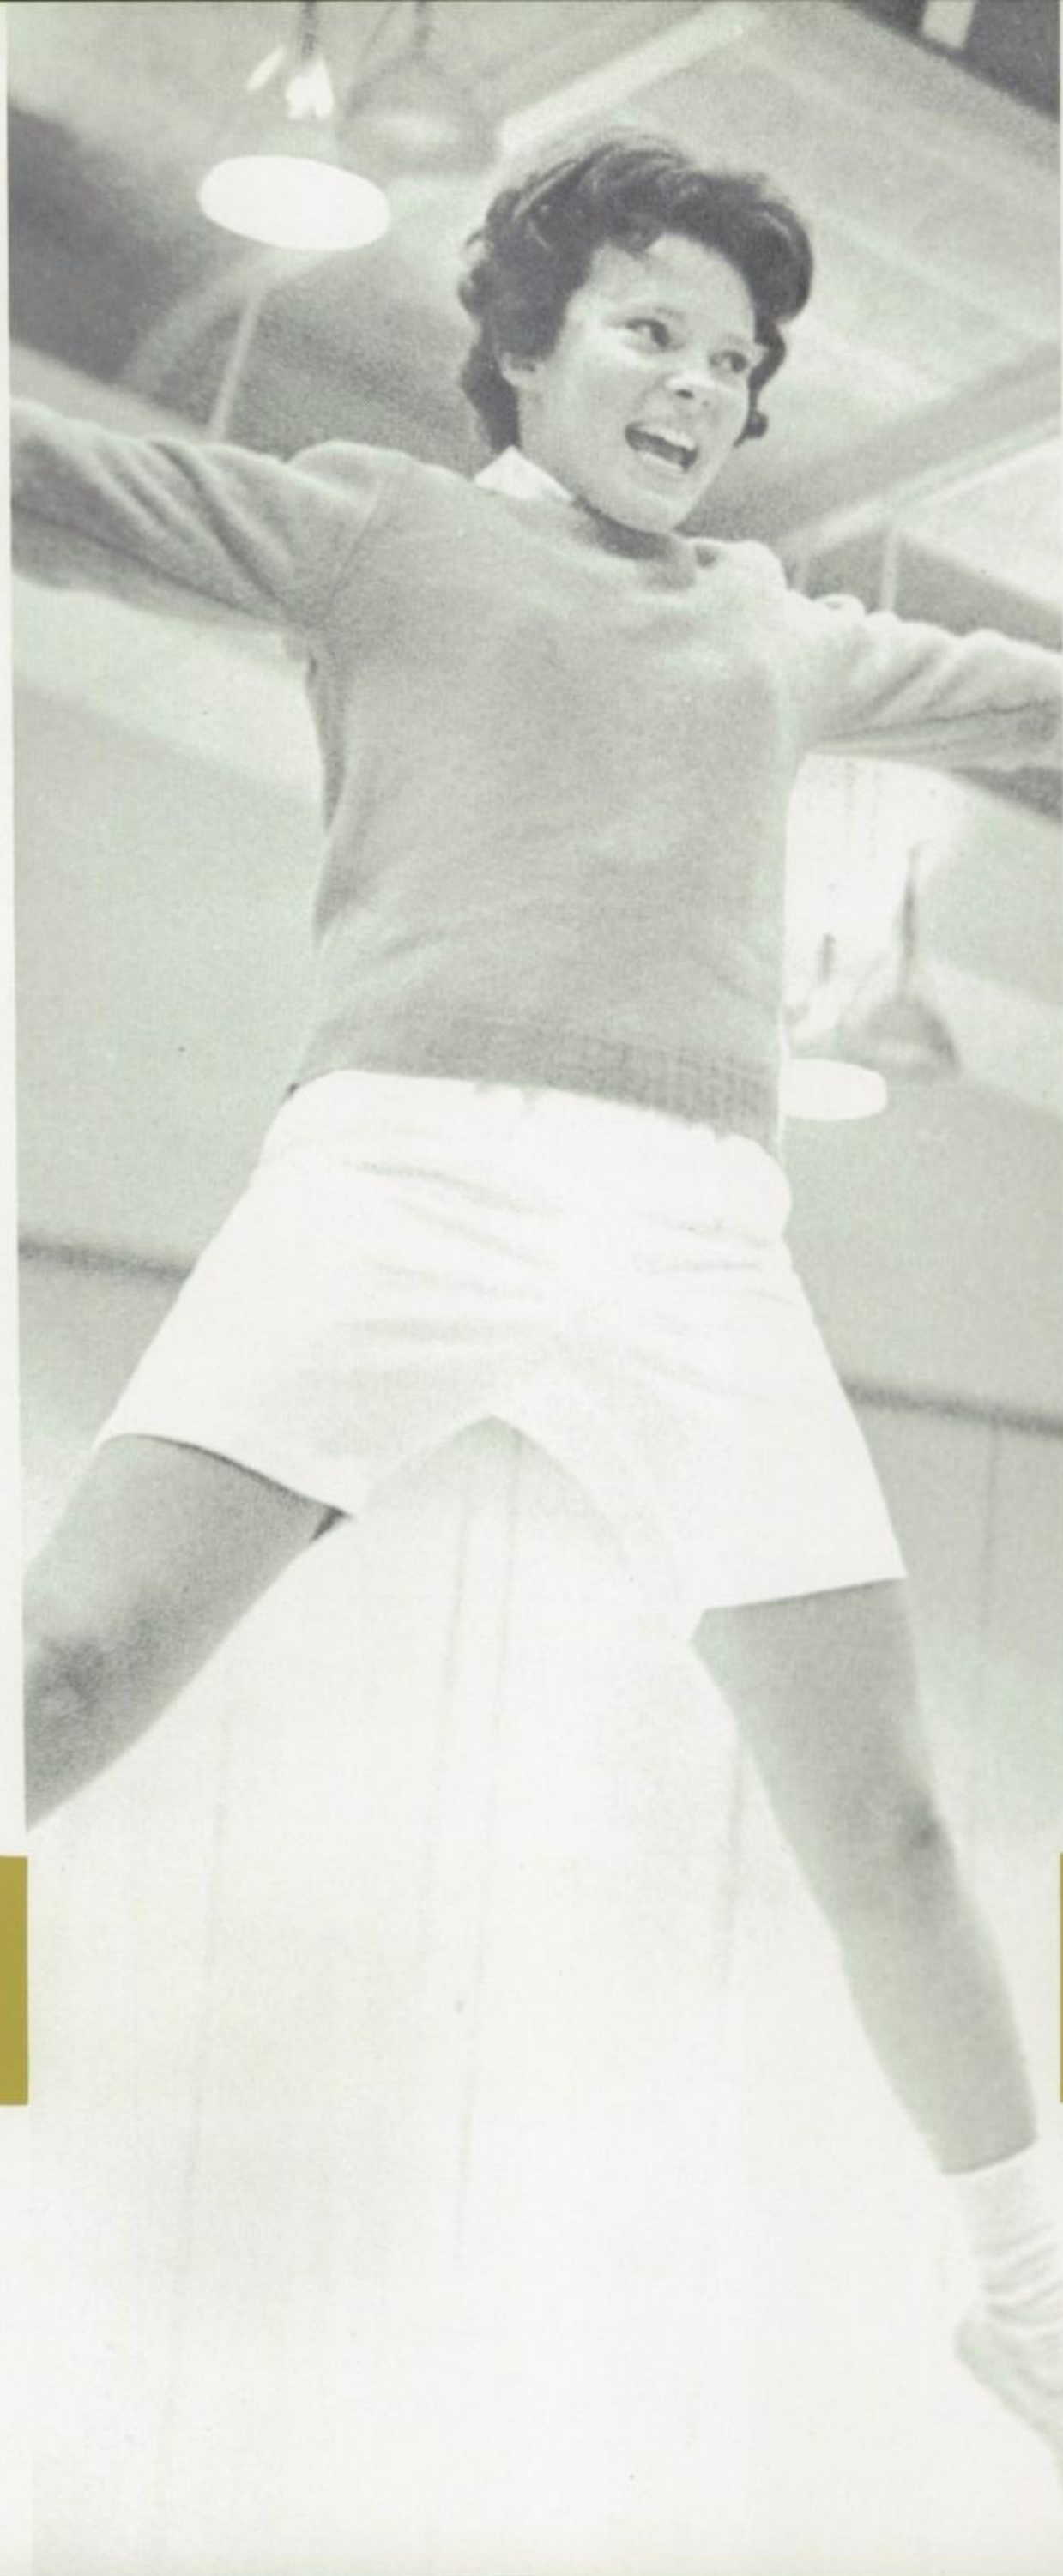

The graduating class of 1962 looked forward to having the beautiful ceremony in the stadium. Everything was set up for having it in either place — the stadium or the gymnasium. Students hoped that the skies would smile upon the graduates as they walked slowly to the stadium, keeping in step to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." That wasn't the way it was to be, however, for the class of 1962 found itself ready and waiting inside the building minutes before the beginning ceremony. GRADUATION — 1962 — inside the walls of our beloved John Marshall. We will remember it always.
